THE JEFFREY EPSTEIN CHILD ABUSE SCANDAL: THE WHOLE CASE, BEGINNING TO END

By: Joel van der Reijden | Date: Dec. 23, 2019 | Last update: Feb. 26, 2026.

CONTENTS

1. Intro

Case history

2. Epstein the friendly pedophile: 2005-2006 police file
3. 2006: state attorney protects Epstein; police chief protests
4. 2008: Epstein's corrupt plea deal; abuse age to 13
5. 2011: Cyrus Vance Jr.: Rockefeller DA protecting Epstein

Virginia Roberts

6. Chronology of media attention: 2007-
7. Basic credibility
8. Famous people she met
9. Famous people she had sex with
10. The case against Alan Dershowitz

Epstein: elitism

11. The Epstein timeline: superclass grooming
12. Death, disinformation, and brother's elite ties

13. Summary and conclusions

Updates

14. 2025: "Conservative CIA" turns on Trump over "Mossad agent" Epstein
15. Feb. 2026: Epstein confirms David Rockefeller recruitment for Trilateral Commission in leaked 2019 video
16. Epstein still a friendly pedo

17. 2026: email releases contain interesting tidbits

Appendices

18. A: 107 key names plus bios from Epstein's black book

19. Notes

"[Jeffrey] Epstein and [Ghislaine] Maxwell forced me into sexual activity with Epstein. I was 15 years old at the time. ... I also had sexual intercourse with Jean Luc Brunel many times when I was 16 through 19 years old. ... Brunel ran some kind of modeling agency and appeared to have an arrangement with the U.S. Government where he could get passports or other travel documents for young girls. He would then bring these young girls (girls ranging in age from 12 to 24) to the United States for sexual purposes and farm them out to his friends, including Epstein. ... Jeffrey Epstein has told me that he has slept with over 1,000 of Brunel's girls, and everything that I have seen confirms this claim. Epstein, Brunel, and Maxwell loved orgies with kids... Epstein also trafficked me for sexual purposes to many other powerful men, including politicians and powerful business executives. ... I am still very fearful of these men today."

~ Jan. 19, 2015, affidavit of Virginia Roberts Giuffre (PDF).

"Jane Doe 102 [Virginia Roberts Giuffre] was 15 years old when Ghislaine Maxwell discovered her and lured her to Epstein's house. Maxwell and Epstein forced her to have sex with both of them and within weeks Maxwell and Epstein were flying her all over the world. According to the Complaint, Jane Doe 102 was forced to live as one of Epstein's underage sex slaves for years and was forced to have sex with not only Maxwell and Epstein but also other politicians, businessmen, royalty, academicians, etc. She was even made to watch Epstein have sex with three 12-year-old French girls that were sent to him for his birthday by a French citizen that is a friend of Epstein's [likely Jean Luc Brunel]."

~ Sep. 22, 2010-signed 'Statement of Undisputed Facts' for the Palm Beach County Court (PDF).

"As well as explosive allegations about Prince Andrew, 'Jane Doe #3' told the court she was 'trafficked for sexual purposes' to a string of other powerful men – including 'a well-known Prime Minister'. No clue was given to the identity, but the court documents say Epstein's 'lending' of young girls to prominent international figures – foreign presidents and US politicians and businessmen among them – was to 'ingratiate' himself and 'so that he could potentially blackmail them'."

> ~ Jan. 3, 2015, Daily Mail, 'Harvard law professor named alongside Prince Andrew in 'sex-slave' case accuses alleged victim of 'making up stories''.

Intro: why the Epstein case is important

Most of this article was planned to be published in January 2015. Now, a full five years later, after another arrest of Jeffrey Epstein, and his subsequent suicide in prison, maybe it's time to finally put out the story.

Obviously, the Epstein affair might well be the most massively reported on child abuse affair - ever - but it might still be nice to actually have an article out there that discusses the whole affair, from beginning to end, in great detail, well-sourced, with all the relevant court documents available. I myself noticed that crawling through 10,000 newspaper articles on the affair in 2015-2016 really couldn't compare to reading a number of court documents, namely:

- May 1, 2006, Palm Beach police, Probable Cause Affidavit.
- Virginia Roberts Giuffre testimony against Jeffrey Epstein (2008) and Alan Dershowitz (2015).
- September 22, 2010, Statement of Undisputed Facts of Roberts' lawyer.
- March 20, 2011, R. Alexander Acosta letter on Jeffrey Epstein's 2008 plea deal.

The Epstein case might not be as shocking as the Dutroux X-Dossiers, but it does have its place. For starters, the Epstein case ties into a lot of other ISGP research. To illustrate:

- Epstein's chief lawyer and alleged accomplice, Alan Dershowitz, was the mentor of the super-globalist actress Natalie Portman at Harvard and remains a major neocon (despite having liberal elite leanings as well) with ties to former CIA director James Woolsey, this through NGO Monitor and the anti-immigration Gatestone Institute.

- Epstein was friends with both Bill Clinton and Donald Trump.
- At the turn of the century, Epstein used to hang out with Google founder Sergey Brin and a bunch of rent-a-skeptic scientists at the annual Billionaires' Dinners of the TED Talk-tied Edge Foundation.
- Epstein was a member of the super-elite Trilateral Commission from at least 1995 until at least March 2007 (when he was already under investigation for over two years, with his name appearing in the New York Times over this 6 months before), alongside the likes of founders David Rockefeller and Zbigniew Brzezinski, Henry Kissinger, Enron's Ken Lay, top Democrat globalists George Soros and Senator Dianne Feinstein, former CIA director John Deutch, future Bush vice president Dick Cheney, future Bush assistant secretary of defense Paul Wolfowitz, and other leading "right-left" globalists.
- Two mentors of Epstein, Abe Greenberg and Les Wexner, were/are leading Zionists, the latter certainly a member of the Zionist "Mega Group". This network strongly ties back to Israel and the Mossad.
- Epstein and his lawyer, Alan Dershowitz, used to hang out with elites as Ghislaine Maxwell - Epstein's girlfriend - and the Rothschilds. Maxwell and the Rothschilds tie back to both the Mossad and the Haut de la Garenne child abuse scandal, but this is not discussed in this article.

Hence, considering Epstein's obsession with underage prostitutes seems to have been pretty much an open secret by the late 1990s, his case is an important one to discuss, if only to get a sense how much of this type of behavior is tolerated and ignored in elite circles, including the media.

Epstein the Friendly Pedophile: 2005-2006 police file

Nothing beats original documentation. Hundreds of articles have been written about the Jeffrey Epstein pedophile affair, but none of them even come close to reading the 22-page probable cause affidavit of the Palm Beach Police Department. [1] I highly suggest readers go through it in order to understand how the initial Epstein investigation began in March 2005 and basically ended with this report, dated May 1, 2006. Much of the report is summarized in this first section.

The picture that emerges from the probable cause affidavit is considerably less negative than, let's say, the Dutroux X-Dossiers, in which torture and murder of very young children, sometimes not even in their teens, appears to have been the norm. Is any of that true? Who really knows. Some of the testimonies I personally find suspect, but it's impossible to deny that there's an awful lot of evidence, all pointing to Belgian members of Bilderberg - and their immediate friends - and a variety of Le Cercle-tied Cold War CIA assets. That's quite the coincidence. Mind you, Epstein was a member of the Trilateral Commission, which strongly overlaps with Bilderberg, for 10 years when the investigation against him was started in March 2005.

None of the extreme child abuse material of the X-Dossiers can be found in the original Epstein case, however. Here we have a billionaire working 9 to 10 hours a day who during his breaks prefers to enjoy a massage. We're hardly even talking about "massages", but actual massages. Epstein definitely had an obsession with them. He also paid well: usually $200 and sometimes $300 or $400. This immediately explains why he found lots of "volunteers" over the years, with quite a few of them returning dozens, if not hundreds of times.

Of course, there were more problematic aspects to these massages; otherwise he wouldn't have landed in jail - however brief that (initial) stay was. While this may not have always been the case, certainly since the late 1990s, Epstein preferred to get these massages from underage girls in the range of 14- to 17-years-old. The probable cause affidavit doesn't mention ages below 14, so we'll go with that for now.

What made things particularly illegal is that Epstein was always looking for so-called "happy endings", not just for himself, but also for the youthful masseuses. All girls reported having experiences along these lines: Epstein would try to get girls to remove as much clothing as possible and would beat off to the girl present. Sometimes he would rub their vaginas and breasts in the process. He also had a habit of grabbing a giant vibrator that he would hold between the girls' legs. Most of this happened without any warning beforehand and certainly the question to remove as much clothing as possible - and the beating off - would start during the first session.

Vaginal intercourse only happened with two of the underage girls in the police investigation. In one instance it was consensual. Epstein simply asked if it was a possibility. She said it was okay and they had sex. For this he gave her an additional $150. The other case involved a girl who had been massaging him for a long time. Only known as A.H., this girl occasionally had sex with Epstein's live-in "sex slave", Nadia Marcinkova, and allowed Epstein to make her come with a vibrator. At one point Epstein apparently thought it would be okay to go after her, bending her over a table, holding her head down, and taking her from behind. She got upset about this, after which Epstein stopped, apologized, and gave her $1,000. She never went to the police and it is unknown if she continued providing massages.

Excerpts of the 2005 police video of Epstein's Palm Beach mansion.

Over the course of the investigation, the police carried out a search of Epstein's home. The details provided by the girls were confirmed: a pink couch in the main bathroom where the massages took place, a stairwell lined with pictures of naked underage girls, many of them familiar; similar pictures throughout the house; and notepads with telephone numbers of the girls.

Sensational news stories about hidden cameras in rooms where sex took place do not seem to be true. The police report clearly states that only two hidden cameras were found: one in the library behind Epstein's desk and one in the garage. That's it. Ultimately the police report concluded:

> "Therefore, as Jeffrey Epstein, who at the time of these incidents was fifty one years of age, did have vaginal intercourse either with his penis or digitally with [blank], [blank], [blank] and [blank] who were minors at the time this occurred, there is sufficient probable cause to charge Jeffrey Epstein with four counts of Unlawful Sexual Activity with a Minor, in violation of Florida State Statute 794.05(1), a second degree felony. As Epstein, who at the time of the incident was fifty two years of age, did use a vibrator on the external vaginal are of [blank], a fourteen year old minor, there is sufficient probable cause to charge him with Lewd and Lascivious Molestation..."[2]

The interesting thing is that the most severe aspect, two cases of vaginal penetration, aren't necessarily the worst. As mentioned, in one case it was consensual; and in the other case it involved a girl who had massaged him hundreds of times and participated in all other aspects of sex play. Epstein immediately stopped what he was doing, apologized, and she made another $1,000 on top of the many thousands she had already made. It's illegal (for good reason) and he should be prosecuted for it, but the acts themselves were completely voluntary on behalf of the girls.

The most damning aspect is really that he put the vast majority of these underage girls in a very uncomfortable and sometimes even very threatening situations when he told them to strip and, without warning, pulled out his giant vibrators, started rubbing different body parts, inserted his fingers in bodily orifices, and began to jerk off. On top of that, Epstein was corrupting local high school and college girls by setting up pedophile recruitment schemes in which girls were incriminating themselves by going around trying to recruit other "masseuses", with the girls that decided to come over being paid under the table with large amounts of cash. Primary recruiters of Epstein included Haley Robson, Sarah Kellen and his live-in "Balkan sex-slave" Nadia Marcinkova.

Despite all that, it appears that the amount of trauma doled out by Mr. Jeffrey Epstein - as far as we know - is relatively minor compared to other pedophile cases studied by ISGP. Mitigating factors here for Epstein are:

- Almost all girls were instructed beforehand that they were going to give an erotic massage to an eccentric billionaire and that they could always say "stop" if he would go too far.
- They received a minimum of $200 per massage.
- Sometimes Epstein also paid Christmas bonuses, college fees, down payments for a house, or provided girls with his own or with rented cars.
- Most of the girls came back several times, or even recruited girls while they themselves did not provide any more massages.
- None of the girls went to the police as far as we know. It was a worried stepmother who eventually got the ball rolling.
- Epstein stopped having sex with a girl when she became visibly distressed, apologized, and paid her $1,000 for her inconvenience. She didn't go to the police.
- Epstein was pretty decent looking, certainly for his age; and had a fit, tanned body.
- There is no evidence Epstein had any of the girls tortured or murdered, despite suggestions of victims and witnesses that they were afraid something would happen to them if they talked.
- A lot of the girls were 16 or above, which is legal in some countries. Belgium is an example of that.

Epstein victims? Or "victim-accomplices"? Few things on Earth are more dangerous than women looking for money and some warped vision of "justice". Some of the apparent victims flown in by Jan-Luc Brunel probably do deserve stiff compensation, but many Epstein

Some of the victims were later demanding damages in the range of $50 million. Looking at the police report, none of these girls deserve this amount of money. Maybe 1 or 2 deserve a million, but that's about it - the rest of any restitution should go to a charity or to the state. A lot of the girls don't deserve anything at all and should be lucky that they were able to walk away without being indicted as co-conspirators. Underage or not, when they started recruiting other girls, that's exactly what they became.

girls exploited the situation as much as Epstein did himself.

Obviously Epstein had to be punished severely in order to make it very clear that minors are always strongly protected by the law and that they are completely off-limits when it comes to sexual endeavors, no matter how much money you put into their pockets or how complicit you make them.

At the same time, underage girls who voluntarily do sexual favors for adults should never be allowed to financially profit from this relationship, as this will encourage "certain" girls to seek out adults, have sex, only to turn them in, exaggerate the facts, and receive a nice financial reward in the process. It goes without saying that the tabloids and tons of lawyers would only be too happy to "support" these victims in their crusade against the perpetrator. None of it should be acceptable.

2006: state attorney protects Epstein; police chief protests

Despite the evidence presented in the May 2006 probable cause affidavit of the Palm Beach Police Department, and the extreme sensitivity these days surrounding cases of pedophilia, it has to be said that Palm Beach County state attorney Barry Krischer went unusually soft on Epstein.

Instead of pursuing his own charges, in a very usual step, he brought the case in front of a grand jury, something which in Florida is generally only done in cases of capital crime. [3] Krischer provided the grand jury with a wide range of possible charges and brought the case in such a manner that the grand jury only charged Epstein with "soliciting prostitution" [4] instead of the more realistic proposal by the police of "four counts of Unlawful Sexual Activity with a Minor [and one count of] Lewd and Lascivious Molestation." [5] As U.S. district attorney R. Alexander "Alex" Acosta later explained it, initially Krischer, "due to concerns regarding the quality of the evidence", even tried to limit the charges against Epstein to "one count of aggravated assault with no intent to commit a felony. That charge would have resulted in no jail time, no requirement to register as a sexual offender and no restitution for the underage victims." [6] It's hard to see how anyone who has read the probable cause affidavit can genuinely agree to such extremely lenient charges.

Very quickly after Krischer's unusual decision to forward the Epstein case to the grand jury, Palm Beach Police Department chief Michael Reiter "accused prosecutors of giving Mr. Epstein special treatment and asked the state attorney, Barry E. Krischer, to remove himself from the case." [7] Next, Reiter refers the case to the FBI. In turn, the FBI hands it to the U.S. Attorney General's office, headed by Andrew Napolitano, who, unlike Krischer or Epstein, happens to be a conservative Republican. Napolitano's office comes to the conclusion that Krischer's office would have to pursue tougher charges. A jail sentence has to be included and Epstein will have to be registered as a sex offender. [8]

Why did Trump even hire Alex Acosta as his secretary of labor, considering the Epstein case only continued to rise in controversy? In Marhc 2010 Epstein pleaded the 5th to the question, "Have you ever socialized with Donald Trump in the presence of females under the age of 18?" [9] He certainly has been scouting girls at parties with Epstein [10], and Trump didn't help himself in a 2006 interview with Howard Stern going, "No, no, I have no age limit. ... Well, I don't want to be [like that congressman] with 12-year-olds." [11] But the underage part with Epstein could be nothing. And howard Stern has been more openly pedophile to Jenna Jameson and her father, without any controversy. [12] In fact, as always, the media fully ignored any potential Trump ties until Trump ally Elon Musk went berserk, set up his America Party, and started bringing it up again.

What happens next? A full year later, on September 24, 2007, Epstein's attorneys negotiate a plea deal with Alex Acosta, Miami's top federal prosecutor and a representative of Barry Krischer's state attorney's office. Per the plea deal, Epstein will plead guilty to "solicitation of prostitution and procurement of minors for prostitution", agree to serve 18 months in jail for it, and register as a sex offender. He will also agree that "approximately thirty-four (34) other young girls [can] receive payments from him..." [13] In addition, the deal protects a number of Epstein's closest female assistants and sex partners who knew what was going on, or even were involved themselves. On this issue the plea bargain reads: "the United States also agrees that it will not institute any criminal charges against any of the potential co-conspirators of Epstein, including but not limited to Sarah Kellen, Adriana Ross, Lesley Groff, or Nadia Marcinkova." [14] The "not limited to" aspect is interesting wording and will later lead to speculation of a cover up of a wider network of high-profile abusers. [15] In July 2019 the plea deal even leads to the resignation of Acosta as Trump's secretary of labor. [16]

Epstein has a month to sign the plea deal, but manages to delay signing until June 30, 2008, at which point the FBI and state attorney's office congratulate each other on this "proud moment". [17] Epstein disappears to jail (not prison) that same month, supposedly for 18 months, but is released almost sixths months early, on July 22, 2009. [18] On top of that, in his Palm Beach county jail Epstein is allowed to have his own private wing, complete with a personal bodyguard that he pays for. Not that he spends a huge amount of time here, as he is put on a work release program, allowing him to spent up to 16 hours per day at his Palm Beach home for six days a week. Except for one day in the week, Epstein basically only sleeps in the local jail. On top of that, he is also allowed to travel to his New York mansion and his estate in the U.S. Virgin Islands.

As U.S. attorney R. Alexander Acosta later agreed, "Epstein appears to have received highly unusual treatment while in jail [to the point that it] undermined the purpose of the jail sentence."[19]

To a large extent Epstein has state attorney Barry Krischer to thank for his extremely lenient sentencing. As it turns out, Krischer is not exactly uncontroversial either. A quick check reveals that his secretary accused him of sexual harassment right before his election as state attorney in 1992. Bizarrely, the only other candidate in the election was accused by one former wife of always being late with alimony payments, with another claiming that he was a heavy drinker who had threatened her. As the Sun Sentinel accurately stated at the time, "It's unfortunate voters have to choose between two candidates who have such questions in their backgrounds", and maybe less accurately added, "[but it] would be irresponsible to refuse to make a choice between them." Despite leaning towards Krischer, maybe the newspaper should also have called for a general protest and boycott of the elections.[20]

2008: Epstein's corrupt plea deal: abuse age drops to 13

While Epstein's plea deal involves private negotiations with lawyers of several dozen victims for financial compensation, not all of them were particularly satisfied with the terms of the plea deal, or the fact that they have been kept in the dark about it. That becomes clear, for example, in an affidavit of Bradley Edwards, attorney for victims E.W. and L.M.

A first interesting detail of this affidavit is that these victims, apparently, were among the "more than forty (40) young girls [Epstein] repeatedly sexually assaulted ... between 2002 and 2005 in his mansion in West Palm Beach [in addition to there being] overwhelming proof that the number of underage girls molested by Epstein through his scheme was in the hundreds."[21] That's an incredible amount of girls Epstein victimized, much more than what can be determined from the initial Palm Beach Police Department's probable cause affidavit. Another interesting detail is that L.M. claims to have been 13-years-old when Epstein sexually assaulted her a first time[22], which is one year younger than the youngest girl in the probable cause affidavit.

Ann Marie Villafana.

As for the say victims E.W. and L.M. had in the plea agreement, they had none. Most likely none of the girls had. In fact, they weren't even informed about it. Looking at the affidavit of Edwards, on January 10, 2008 E.W. and L.M. are informed a first time by the FBI that the investigation into Epstein's sexual abuse is still ongoing. They are informed again on May 30 of that year. In mid June 2008, it is Edwards who contacts assistant prosecutor Ann Marie Villafana to tell her he is now representing E.W. and L.M. and asks her about the status of the investigation. The provided answer is the same as the FBI's: the investigation is ongoing and, based on the available evidence, there's a good chance that Epstein will be convicted. However, neither Villafana nor the FBI mention the plea deal to E.W., L.M., or her attorney that is lying on the table for Epstein. If signed, it will block any further investigations or prosecutions of the billionaire. [23]

As already discussed, Epstein reluctantly signs the plea agreement on Monday, June 30, 2008. Villafana informs Edwards of this scheduled plea hearing, but not until Friday, June 27, around 4:15 p.m., when everything and everybody is about to leave for the weekend. She also doesn't inform Edwards that the entire investigation and prosecution will be halted if Epstein signs the plea agreement. [24] This must have been a deliberate ploy, because in a later-released email of Villafana to Epstein lawyer Jay Lefkowitz at the time the plea agreement was constructed, Villafana wrote to "prefer not to highlight for the judge all of the other crimes [of Epstein] and all of the other persons that we could charge..." [25] So neither Villafana nor anyone else at the State Attorney's Office keeping Edwards or the victims informed about the plea agreement fits into a wider pattern of deceit.

After learning the details of the plea agreement over the course of the following week, on July 7 Edwards files an action based on the Crime Victims' Rights Act (CVRA) to protest the unfair and even unlawful treatment of his clients E.W. and L.M. by the State Attorney's Office. E.W. and L.M. themselves only hear about the existence of the plea agreement on July 11, 2008, 10 months after it was first negotiated. [26]

What is important to mention is that in later news reports and most other court documents, E.W. and L.M. are referred to as Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2. Jane Doe #2 joined the CVRA lawsuit very quickly after Edwards had filed it for Jane Doe #1. [27] However, at a later stage Jane Doe #3 and Jane Doe #4, other victims of Epstein who were also represented by Edwards, were not allowed to join the same CVRA case. According to Edwards this was because:

> "The new victims will establish at trial that the Government violated their CVRA rights in the same way as it violated the rights of the other victims. ... Of course, if four victims all testify consistently that they were not properly informed by the Government (as we believe they will), that provides a stronger case for a CVRA violation." [28]

This CVRA case dragged on into 2016, when this author was attempting to finish up an early version of this article. In July 2016 it was reported that the two victim-witness had received financial compensation from Epstein, but were now attempting to sue the government over the struck plea deal, seeking to create "fundamental changes" to the system. [29] Jane Doe #3 has attempted to join the CVRA case, apparently with little luck. Her request was dismissed in April 2015, with the "lurid" details of her account being wiped from the record by George W. Bush-appointed District Court judge Kenneth Marra. [30] In response to that ruling, Alan Dershowitz was trying to get Jane Doe #3 to testify under oath, in an effort to get her convicted on perjury. [31]

By July 2010, with Epstein already having finished his sentence for a year, he had "settled more than a dozen lawsuits brought by underage girls," with seven victims having reached over $1 million deals that month. [32]

2011: Cyrus Vance Jr.: Rockefeller DA protecting Epstein

Pro-Epstein prosecutor Cy Vance, Jr. His father, a first-rate Rockefeller man, is to be seen in the background with Henry Kissinger.

Evidence for a cover up surrounding the Epstein case continued to pile up. In 2011, two years after Epstein's release from jail, Jennifer Gaffney, deputy chief of the Sex Crimes Unit of the Manhattan DA Office, "forcefully" made the case to the court to have Epstein's sex offender status lowered to the "lowest possible classification", effectively meaning that he would not have to register as a sex offender for life. Judge Ruth Pickholz didn't go along:

> "I'm a little overwhelmed because I have never seen a prosecutor's office do anything like this: ... make a downward argument like this [not even with offenders] much less troubling than this one." [33]

Guess who Gaffney's boss was? Manhattan District Attorney Cyrus Vance, Jr. If that name sounds familiar, it's because his father, Cyrus Vance, Sr., was one of the most connected superclass members of the 20th century. Vance, Sr. served as a trustee (1970-1976) and chair (1975-1976) of the Rockefeller Foundation, was a founding Trilateral Commission member in 1973, headed the Carter administration of 1977-1981 with Trilateral Commission founder Zbigniew Brzezinski, visited Bilderberg in 1970, and was involved for the rest in anything from the Pilgrims Society to the Bretton Woods Committee and the Ditchley Foundation.

Vance, Jr. claimed not to be aware of Gaffney's plea in front of the court, and that it had been "a mistake". [34] One wonders how many people believe this explanation.

Before leaving the D.A.'s office in October 2018 for the private sector, Gaffney also played a key role in the prosecution of disgraced Hollywood mogul Harvey Weinstein - where similar unusual "mistakes" have been made.[35]

VIRGINIA ROBERTS:

Chronology of media attention: 2007-

Of all the victims and accessories Epstein created in the late 1990s and early 2000s with his pedophile recruitment schemes, only one has truly had a voice. That's Virginia Roberts Giuffre, the only victim of Epstein among many dozens to give up her anonymity and provide a detailed testimony of her experiences to the media. Whether that's a coincidence or not, Virginia also just happens to have been among Epstein's tiny handful of "special" girls who eventually were allowed to "entertain" his friends. While most other girls simply provided massages with happy endings, whether it be 5 or 500 times in total, Roberts traveled the world with Epstein on a regular basis, meeting many of his friends. Before we get into additional detail of Virginia's story, let's first take a look at how her story entered the limelight.

Prince Andrew in Thailand, 2001, with Epstein and Maxwell present on-shore.

It was Sharon Churcher of the Mail on Sunday / Daily Mail who was on the trail of Virginia Roberts almost from the beginning. Statements in later newspaper articles indicate that Churcher already published part of Virginia's story in the (Daily) Mail on Sunday in 2007. This appears to be correct, looking at an April 2007 article of Churcher in the Daily Mail, in which it is explained how Prince Andrew and Epstein were introduced to each other by Ghislaine Maxwell, and how "during his [2001] Thai holiday with Epstein, Andrew was photographed surrounded by topless women on a yacht."[36] Talk about tying together all the chief suspects in the Epstein case.

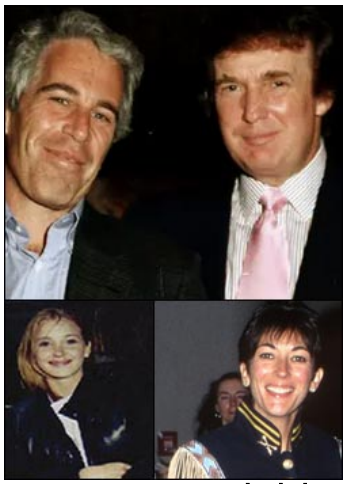
The Daily Mail publication was based on leaked documents of police chief Michael Reiter asking the FBI to look into the case. It appears that Virginia Roberts was not yet talking to Sharon Churcher directly. In fact, according to the affidavit of Bradley Edwards, it wasn't until the signed plea agreement became known to the victim-witnesses in July 2008 that his Jane Doe - apparently Virginia Roberts - decided to start talking to the media. Even then it appears she waited until it had become fully clear that she wouldn't be allowed to join the Crime Victims' Rights Act (CVRA) case of Jane Doe #1 and #2 against the favorable treatment of Jeffrey Epstein by the State Attorney's Office.

Dec. 6, 2010 footage from an Epstein mansion, showing Epstein, Prince Andrew and young girls coming and going.

By 2010 articles on the Epstein affair were published that contained more detailed information from Virginia Roberts' testimony, such as the name Jean-Luc Brunel. [37] The first series of exposés mentioning Virginia by name, and publishing her story of being an Epstein-trained sex slave for Prince Andrew, began on Sunday, February 27, 2011, in the Mail on Sunday, followed by the online edition of the Daily Mail on March 2, 2011. [38] This was repeated with much greater international intensity starting on January 2, 2015, although relatively little additional details were provided. [39]

Virginia Roberts: Basic credibility

Reading various newspaper reports, Roberts had a troubled youth. Born in Sacramento, California, she was sexually assaulted by a person close to her family, which led to the breakup of her parents. She went to live with an aunt at age 11, but repeatedly ran away. Living on the streets, she slept with "at least" two older men - i.e. pedophiles - in return for food." [40] At age 14, in 1997, she went to live with her father, Sky Roberts, who had moved to Palm Beach, Florida. In 1998 she accused two guys of rape here, but the prosecutor's office refused to bring the case to trial. The fact that Roberts was living in a "medical facility" and had been raped by two "friends" after passing out from "drinking alcohol and smoking pot in a wooded area" probably all contributed to the prosecutor's office not taking the case too seriously. [41]



Young Epstein, Trump and Ghislaine Maxwell. Here Virginia is 15-years-old and on an Epstein trip in New York City, right after her recruitment by Ghislaine Maxwell at Florida's Mar-a-Lago.

Very significant is the fact that Virginia's father worked as maintenance manager at Donald Trump's country club, Mar-a-Lago. Roberts herself went to work here "folding towels at the pool" [42] and as a changing room assistant. [43] Right after her 15th birthday in 1998, Virginia met Ghislaine Maxwell at the Mar-a-Lago. Maxwell took an interest in her after she noticed Virginia reading an anatomy book. [44] Because of her looks and, coincidentally, her desire to become a masseuse, Ghislaine invited Virginia to become a masseuse for Jeffrey Epstein. Assuming Ghislaine and Epstein were respectable individuals, her father gave his blessing and even drove her to Epstein's mansion. By the time he left, Epstein was already laying butt-naked on a massage table in a different room, with his daughter soon being fondled by a topless Ghislaine.

Apparently the father never figured something was out of the ordinary until many years later. This come across as overly naive and bizarre, not to mention a case of bad parenting. Then there's the equally bizarre coincidence that father and daughter worked at Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago. However, it appears as if others around Virginia, including an aunt, uncle, brother, a friend and a boyfriend, also had no clue about the abuse. Here and there a few questions were raised, but that's where it stayed:

> "Aunt Carol said: ... 'My brother thought it was all very legitimate. When Virginia told us she'd met Prince Andrew we were thrilled. Virginia gave my Mum a copy of the picture of Andrew with his arm around her...
>
> "An old friend of Virginia's recalled: 'We had our doubts about why exactly Jeffrey had picked this young girl to be his favourite masseuse, when she didn't know much about it, especially when he started flying her around the world. But she didn't say anything about the abuse until much later.
>
> "'Once she'd told her boyfriend at the time the truth they then decided she shouldn't work there any longer. But Epstein wanted her there and was used to getting his way. He lured her back...'"[45]

Virginia with Prince Andrew and Ghislaine Maxwell. This photo was part of an affidavit of Virginia.

Looking at the claims of these friends and family of Virginia, as well as the picture with Prince Andrew and a number of other photos with Epstein and Ghislaine Maxwell, the basics of her story - how she was recruited by Ghislaine Maxwell, sexually groomed by Jeffrey Epstein, and given to Prince Andrew - appear to be fully legit.

Why Epstein took so much a shine to her, might well be because she was much more willing to sexually please him than any of the girls described in the earlier-discussed probably cause affidavit. From these available victim-witness testimonies, Epstein had great trouble extracting sex from his underage masseuses. Many stripped to their underwear and allowed Epstein to jerk off to them, but that was about it. Not so with Roberts, who already had a history of sex and sexual abuse: "Jeffrey bought me jewellery – diamonds were his favourite – and wonderful furniture. He was paying me very well because I'd give him sex whenever he wanted it."[46]

It wasn't all well-compensated sex and negativity either, according to Virginia. She described Epstein and Ghislaine as free-spirited and fun to be around. They would eat popcorn while watching shows as Sex And The City. [47] They would also travel all over the world: from Epstein's mansions in Palm Beach, New York, New Mexico and the Virgin Islands to locations as Tangier (Morocco), Paris, Spain and London. [48] In addition, there were all the famous and important people Virginia Roberts got to meet through Jeffrey Epstein.

One certainly gets the impression that the sexual abuse of Virginia Roberts to a large extent involved a mutually beneficial relationship. The evidence for this is right mixed in with the evidence that Virginia's story is accurate:

- Virginia's story is coherent as to how she was recruited, how she "escaped", and why she eventually went to the media.
- She was a very attractive teenager.
- A picture exists of Virginia with Prince Andrew and Ghislaine Maxwell, with other pictures showing an underage Virginia at various Epstein-owned estates.
- Another "masseuse" for Epstein, Johanna Sjoberg, confirmed Virginia's sexual interactions with Prince Andrew (and herself), and also that Epstein and modeling agency friend Jean-Luc Brunel were continually sending underage girls across the globe to service their wealthy friends. [49]
- Virginia's family and friends backed up her story of having met Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell and Prince Andrew, including the existence of the photo at the time.
- Andrew's love of young "models" has not just been noticed in Thailand on Epstein's yacht: "The prince was also at a Manhattan cocktail party thrown that year by Miss Maxwell which was filled with young Russian 'models' – some of the other guests were 'horrified', said an onlooker."[50]
- Philip Guderyon, who was one of her boyfriends at the time she worked for Epstein, described her as Epstein's "head bitch" who had "like nine or 10 girls she used to bring to him. ... She and the other girls would walk out of there smiling, with their little bathing suits on, like they had just come from the beach. She'd have like $4,000. And then I'd take them all to the mall and they'd get their nails done. [She was] a money-hungry sex kitten."[51]

- Crystal Figueroa, a sister to another boyfriend of Roberts at the time, told the media how Roberts asked her at one point "if she knew anyone 'slutty' so they could be sent to Epstein."[52]

- Former boyfriend Anthony Figueroa recalled in 2015 that Virginia felt pressured by Epstein into sleeping with Prince Andrew, about whom he "didn't hear anything good". But Figueroa also explained, "She would always ask me to try to find girls for him."[53]

- Virginia's later Australian neighbors described her as being a good mother and trustworthy. [54]

- Before and after his conviction, Epstein has remained close to Dershowitz and Prince Andrew [55]

- Already in the late 1990s, Vanity Fair columnist Michael Wolff noticed three young models following Epstein onto his private plane. He indicated that they were probably 18-20 years old. He didn't report this at the time. [56]

- In October 2002 Donald Trump told New York Magazine: "I've known Jeff for fifteen years. Terrific guy. He's a lot of fun to be with. It is even said that he likes beautiful women as much as I do, and many of them are on the younger side. No doubt about it -- Jeffrey enjoys his social life."[57]

- In 2003 reporter Vicky Ward found evidence of Epstein's sexual affairs with minors, but Vanity Fair refused to publish the material. [58]

It would be nice if the ink of Virginia's "sex slave diary" containing details on Prince Andrew and such [59] can be validated as indeed dating back to 2001-2002, but overall it seems that the basic story of grooming and child abuse as told by Virginia Roberts is quite accurate.

Virginia Roberts: famous people she met

Already in 2011, Virginia Roberts described having met:

- Prince Andrew: The second son of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. Virginia claims she had sex with him on several occasions. [60]

- Bill Clinton: Met him twice, with Virginia claiming he "didn't take [Epstein's] bait" in the form of two likely underage girls. Another Epstein victim, Chauntae Davies, who was not underage, was part of the 2002 Africa trip of Epstein and Clinton. Despite claiming to have been raped by Epstein, she also explained that Clinton was "a complete gentleman... charming and sweet."[61]

- Al Gore: Virginia: "The Gores seemed like a beautiful couple when I met them. ... There might have been a couple of other girls there on that trip but I could never have imagined this guy would do anything wrong." Al Gore has been accused of sexual harassment and coercion on another occasion, however. [62]

- Donald Trump: In 2011 Virginia described meeting Trump as: "Donald Trump was also a good friend of Jeffrey's. He didn't partake in sex with any of us but he flirted with me. He'd laugh and tell Jeffrey, "You've got the life.""[63]

- Senator George Mitchell: A Democrat superclass member. Elected the first chairman of George Soros' International Crisis Group in 1995. In 2003 President Bush picked him to serve as the initial vice chairman of the super-sensitive 9/11 Commission under chairman Henry Kissinger. Criticism over Kissinger's appointment led to Kissinger and him being replaced by two other superclass members. Mitchell also is a Bilderberg steering committee member and a 2011 visitor of the Munich Security Conference. Virginia described him as being "very close to Jeffrey". However, no hint of him having had sex with her. [64]

- Lord Peter Mandelson: a politician and key Rothschild agent, described by Virginia as, "I remember [Mandelson] being at the house in New York and I was introduced to him at a dinner party. He and Jeffrey talked business together. I assumed they were in business together. I was never asked to give him a massage." [65] In February 2026, a picture of Mandelson came out in which he was standing in his underwear talking to a 16-year-old girl at Epstein's Parisian flat. [66] Later in February he was arrested over the Epstein affair, not for potential sex with underage models, but on suspicions of having leaked confidential government information to Epstein, whom he regularly met in the 2000s. [67]

- Matt Groening: The Bohemian Grove and Edge Foundation's Billionaires' Dinners-visiting Simpsons creator. She only gave him a foot massage. He was very nice to her. [68]

- Naomi Campbell: Good friend of Epstein, but described as "fake [and] a real bitch" by Virginia. [69]

These names all appeared in Epstein's leaked contact book, or were already known to be friends of Epstein. Bill Clinton's famous 2002 trip through Africa with actors Kevin Spacey and Chris Tucker, all on Jeffrey Epstein's jet, is the best-known example of this. [70]

Virginia Roberts: famous people she had sex with

More importantly, by name, Virginia has only admitted to having had sex with four friends of Epstein while she was a minor. These individuals are:

- Ghislaine Maxwell, Epstein's long-time girlfriend;
- Prince Andrew, Epstein royal friend and apparent blackmail subject;
- Alan Dershowitz, Epstein's lawyer;
- and Paris-based model agency owner Jean Luc Brunel.

Sex with Ghislaine and Jean Luc Brunel happened on a very regular basis. Ghislaine would also shoot pictures of Virginia having sex with other girls. Sex with Prince Andrew occurred on three occasions, with Virginia receiving $15,000 the first time from Epstein, but only $400 the second time. With Dershowitz she had sex on roughly half a dozen. Of course, all these individuals denied when the accusations became public.

These were not the only individuals, however, Virginia had sex with. She left out a number of very prominent individuals that even after all these years have not been identified by name. In March 2011 the Daily Mail's Sharon Churcher quoted Virginia as saying:

> "'The way it usually worked was I'd be sent to meet a man on the private island Jeffrey owned in the Caribbean, or at his ranch in New Mexico, which was really isolated.' She was 'given' to men ranging in age from their 40s to their 60s.
>
> "They included a well-known businessman (whose pregnant wife was asleep in the next room), a world-renowned scientist, a respected liberal politician and a foreign head of state. None appeared to think the arrangement was unusual." [71]

Fascinatingly, searching portions of this quote on Google between quotation marks, puts the original Daily Mail article around 10 of 14th place, behind a slew of third-rate conspiracy blogs. It seems Google is not just "failing" ISGP, but also to an extent the Daily Mail - which happens to be relatively popular among populist-supporting candidates, possibly because of its relatively uncensored comment section.

In January 2015, the Daily Mail reported:

> "MailOnline understands [Virginia Roberts] intends to name American politicians, business executives, foreign presidents and a well-known Prime Minister with whom she claims the Prince's former friend Jeffrey Epstein forced her to sleep."[72]

France comes to mind as the only European country with a president and we know that Virginia has visited Paris with Epstein. As ISGP has already discussed, child sexual abuse, even very sadistic, is totally acceptable among French elites. This is all speculation though. Time will tell if more details and evidence come out.

Virginia Roberts: the case against Alan Dershowitz

Accusations of sexual abuse against former Epstein friend and lawyer, Alan Dershowitz, are important as well. Looking at Dershowitz's biography, he appears to be a first-rate controlled-opposition asset with deep ties to both the liberal and neocon establishments. Once the favorite liberal debater of elite conservative CIA representative William Buckley Jr., as of 2019, Dershowitz advises Trump on the Middle East (supporting a two-state solution for Israel) and on Supreme Court candidates.[73]

Epstein with Dershowitz.

Public accusations against Dershowitz don't seem to have surfaced until January 2015, when the account of Virginia Roberts basically went on repeat in relation to what was exposed in 2011. As for the accusations against Dershowitz, in a January 15, 2015-signed affidavit, Virginia Roberts doubled-down on the recently-surfaced accusations as follows:

> "24. Harvard law professor Alan Dershowitz was around Epstein frequently [in 1998-2001]. Dershowitz was so comfortable with the sex that was going on that he would even come and chat with Epstein while I was giving oral sex to Epstein.
>
> "25. I had sexual intercourse with Dershowitz at least six times. The first time was when I was about 16, early on in my servitude to Epstein, and it continued until I was 19.
>
> "26. The first time we had sex took place in New York in Epstein's home. It was in Epstein's room (not the massage room). ... [Later also] at Epstein's house in Palm Beach [and] at Little Saint James Island... I also had sex with Dershowitz at Epstein's Zorro Ranch in New Mexico in the massage room off of the indoor pool area, which was still being painted. ...

> "30. Another sexual encounter between me and Dershowitz happened on Epstein's airplane. Another girl was present on the plane with us."

Dershowitz denied ever having met Roberts and soon ran his own counter-attack in the form of a private detective investigation to find dirt on Roberts. He also began a libel suit against her. At one point, Dershowitz claimed that the accusations against him were a blackmail/revenge attempt by fellow legal titan David Boies, in this round the lawyer of Virginia Roberts and maybe the more questionable Sarah Ransome, against whom Dershowitz had earlier filed an unethical bar charge. [74]

Ransome's claims might be more questionable than Virginia - she contacted the New York Post with claims that she has video of Bill and Hillary Clinton, Donald Trump and Richard Branson all having sex with underage girls on Epstein's property - but at the same time it appears Dershowitz may have been referring to the "sealed" [75] New York Post emails of Ransome when he stated that "prominent people [will be] in handcuffs once these emails come out."[76]

All this bickering is nice and well, but the thing is, the accusations of Virginia Roberts against Alan Dershowitz go back to at least a September 22, 2010-signed "Statement of Undisputed Facts" by Bradley Edwards, attorney for victims E.W. and L.M. In that same statement we find evidence that Dershowitz was among Epstein's closest friends and that Epstein's housekeeper, Alfredo Rodriguez, testified that Dershowitz was regularly present while Epstein was having sex with his underage "masseuses". Pp. 26-27:

> "72. Edwards provided notice that he intended to depose Alan Dershowitz. Edwards possessed a legitimate basis for doing so:
>
> "(a) Dershowitz is believed to have been friends with Epstein for many years; (b) in one news article Dershowitz comments that, "I'm on my 20th book... The only person outside of my immediate family that I send drafts to is Jeffrey" - The Talented Mr. Epstein, By Vicky Ward on January, 2005 in Published Work, Vanity Fair (See article attached as Exhibit "00");
>
> "(c) Epstein's housekeeper Alfredo Rodriguez testified that Dershowitz stayed at Epstein's house during the years when Epstein was assaulting minor females on a daily basis;
>
> "(d) Rodriguez testified that Dershowitz was at Epstein's house at times when underage females where there being molested by Epstein (see Alfredo Rodriguez deposition at 278-280, 385, 426-427);

> "(e) Dershowitz reportedly assisted in attempting to persuade the Palm Beach State Attorney's Office that because the underage females alleged to have been victims of Epstein's abuse lacked credibility and could not be believed that they were at Epstein's house, when Dershowitz himself was an eyewitness to their presence at the house;
>
> "(f) Jane Doe No. 102 [Virginia Roberts] stated generally that Epstein forced her to be sexually exploited by not only Epstein but also Epstein's "adult male peers, including royalty, politicians, academicians, businessmen, and/or other professional and personal acquaintances" — categories that Dershowitz and acquaintances of Dershowitz fall into;
>
> "(g) during the years 2002-2005 Alan Dershowitz was on Epstein's plane on several occasions according to the flight logs produced by Epstein's pilot and information (described above) suggested that sexual assaults may have taken place on the plane;
>
> "(h) Epstein donated $30 Million one year to the university at which Dershowitz teaches."

To make matters worse for Dershowitz, he's been caught lying about his relationship to Epstein in a January 15, 2015 Law.com interview. Asked, "Isn't it a bad idea for a lawyer to be so close to a notorious client?", Dershowitz replied:

> "Let me tell you how I met him. I was introduced to him by Lady de Rothschild as an academic colleague. He was friendly with [top Rockefeller globalist and economist] Larry Summers... He was in the process of contributing $50 million [note: $30 million] to Harvard for evolutionary biology."[77]

Nat Rothschild, the son of Lord Jacob Rothschild, with Ghislaine Maxwell.

The problem here is that a flight log from December 1997 reveals that he was on Epstein's private jet with "one unidentified "female," a "Hazel," a "Claire," and [Ghislaine] Maxwell." Other flight logs show Dershowitz was on Epstein's private jet in 1998, 1999 and 2005, in the last case with a certain "Tatianna". When Gawker confronted Dershowitz with this information, he became evasive, claiming the unidentified female "could have been my mother" and that "Tatianna" may have been "Epstein's girlfriend." What Dershowitz did acknowledge is that his "first substantive contact with [Epstein] was to fly with him to

Les Wexner's house to attend dinner with Shimon Peres and John Glenn." [78]

Despite having been exonerated by the FBI in 2016 [79], the evidence is certainly staking up against Dershowitz. At the very least it appears he knew what Epstein was doing with various underage girls. In addition, according to Virginia, Epstein never removed the pictures of his underage "masseuses" strewn around the house, some of them involving nudity. A later police video of Epstein's house confirmed these "pictures and others — many focusing on Epstein's fixation with young girls' derrieres — are upstairs in and around his bedroom or in the pool house." One picture on Epstein's wall was blurred out in the police video, because it involved "one of a child aged no more than six or seven bending over in a tiny dress." [80]

EPSTEIN: ELITISM

Epstein's superclass grooming: Mossad, Trilateral Commission, CFR

Epstein's elite ties are not often highlighted in any detail, apart from him being connected to Clinton and Trump. There is a lot to be discussed here though.

- 1976: Epstein, a Dalton math teacher, has his mathematical talents discovered by the father of one of his students. The father introduces him to superclass member Alan "Abe" Greenberg at Bear Stearns, where Epstein soon goes to work. [81]

- 1980s: Epstein is climbing the ranks at Bear Stears, which by then counts Donald Trump among its most important clients. [82] Greenberg can be found on the board of United Jewish Appeal, were, from 1988 to 2011, he would run the UJA-Federation's annual Wall Street dinner. [83] He also is a board member and major financier for years on end of the Jerusalem Foundation [84], founded by his good friend Teddy Kollek [85], who used to run Haganah/Mossad operations in the U.S. with the Mossad's Reuven Shiloah, with whom he also brokered the 1951 CIA-Mossad alliance. [86] Former CIA director John Deutch in the 1990s, close David Rockefeller ally John Whitehead, and various leading Zionists could be found on the U.S. board of the Jerusalem Foundation over the years. [87]

  Furthermore, Greenberg used to sit on the board of the Joint Distribution Committee, along with the Rothschilds, Bronfmans, Edmond Safra, Lord Weidenfeld and yet more leading Zionists. [88]

As for non-Zionist connections, Greenberg also becomes a member of the super-elite Alfalfa Club, together with various Rockefellers, Warren Buffett, most of the Bush family, Dick Cheney, George Shultz, Zbigniew Brzezinski and many other elites.

- Early 1990s: Epstein's girlfriend becomes Ghislaine Maxwell, the favorite daughter of the recently deceased British-Jewish billionaire Robert Maxwell. Epstein provides Ghislaine, who lost most of the family's fortune, with the lifestyle that she was used to when growing up, with one close friend describing the relationship as "[she] seemed to be half ex-girlfriend, half employee, half best friend, and fixer." She also was a whore madam for Epstein. [89]

  As for Ghislaine's father, Robert Maxwell, after World War II, MI6 had tried to recruit him as an agent. He refused and was classified by MI6 as a "Zionist - loyal only to Israel". During later decades Maxwell became one of the leading super-spies for Israel's Mossad, with suspicions surfacing that he was assassinated in 1991 after threatening the Mossad to bail his businesses out to the tune of $1 billion. [90]

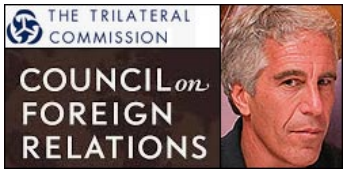
- Early 1990s: Epstein grows very close to Jewish billionaire Leslie Wexner, whose financial advisor he becomes. [91] In 1991 Wexner becomes a founding member of the Zionist "Mega Group", counting the involvement of the Bronfmans, Max Fisher, Laurence Tisch and Steven Spielberg. [92] Wexner can also be found on the board of Conrad Black's Hollinger International, together with the absolute elite of the elite: Henry Kissinger, Sir Evelyn de Rothschild, Lord Jacob Rothschild, close David Rockefeller friends Paul Volcker and Zbigniew Brzezinski, Richard Perle and many others. Wexner developed similar elite ties as a lifetime trustee of the Aspen Institute, along with top superclass members as Lester Crown, David Gergen, Henry Kissinger, Sandra Day O'Connor, Paul Volcker, Thomas Pickering, etc. [93]

The Rockefeller's CFR and Trilateral Commission on one side. The Zionist Mega Group on the other. Here Mega Group members Laurence Tisch and Edgar Bronfman, Sr. talking to Shimon Peres. Les Wexner, a Mega Group member, Victoria's Secret owner and Epstein mentor, can be seen in the small picture.

As for Epstein, by 1995 he was a director of the Wexner Foundation and the Wexner Heritage Foundation [94], which maintain the Wexner-Israel Fellowship in coordination with Harvard's Kennedy

School of Government. Epstein, a science lover, also gets involved in the Charles Darwin Society of the New York Academy of Science. [95]

- June 1995: No later than June 1995, Epstein becomes a member of David Rockefeller's Trilateral Commission, alongside persons as George Soros, Zbigniew Brzezinski, Paul Volcker and others. In Trilateral Commission membership lists, Epstein is listed as "President, New Albany Property, Inc.", a real estate company that he cleaned up and ran for Leslie Wexner. He will remain a Trilateral Commission member until at least March 2007, at which point he already is under investigation for two years for large-scale child trafficking and abuse, with the New York Times having dropped his name in this regard in September 2006.



- November 1995: Epstein is appointed a trustee of Rockefeller University, along with Nancy Kissinger [96], the wife of Henry Kissinger, whom he should already know through Greenberg, Wexner, Maxwell and possibly the Trilateral Commission. David Rockefeller and his close friend Brooke Astor are both listed as "Life Trustees/Voting Members", with other close superclass friends as John Whitehead and Maurice Greenberg also serving on the board, as is David's son, Dr. Richard Rockefeller. Even David Koch is to be found on the board of trustees.

  Certainly by 2002, Epstein is gone from the board of trustees, with Nancy Kissinger still serving. [97]

- 1995-2009: Epstein is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and part of its "Chairmen's Circle" of donors, until well after accusations of large-scale child abuse surfaced. [98]

- 1997: Epstein first meets scholar Alan Dershowitz, who, among many other positions, will end up becoming a trustee of neocon NGO Monitor and a "Distinguished Senior Fellow" of the neocon, anti-immigration Gatestone Institute. Both groups counted the involvement of former CIA director and top neocon James Woolsey. [99]

- 1999-2000, 2002: Epstein is a founding participant in the Edge Foundation's Billionaires' Dinners, which is part of the Technology, Entertainment and Design (TED) Talks. Serge Brin and other leaders of Google visit annually. The same goes for Nathan Myhrvold and other leaders of Microsoft. Jeff Bezos of Amazon and the Sun Valley (like many here) is a regular. Rupert Murdoch visits in 2002; Bran

Ferren, an unofficial representative of the high-tech national security state, mingles with the crowd the same years as Epstein. Key atheist, "rent-a-skeptic" scientists as Richard Dawkins, Daniel Dennett and Steven Pinker, as well as Edge Foundation founder and head John Brockman, fly in on Epstein's private jet. To what extent underage girls are present is unknown.

- December 2000: Both Epstein and partner-in-crime Ghislaine Maxwell attend an exclusive 94-people dinner hosted by Conrad Black, founder of Hollinger International and a member of the Bilderberg steering committee [100], the Pilgrims Society, and the 1001 Club. Among the participants are Henry Kravis, Michael Bloomberg, "conservative godfather" William F. Buckley Jr., Norman Podhoretz and wife Midge Decter, Richard Perle, Lynn Forester de Rothschild, Richard Holbrooke, key Clinton friend and Bilderberg steering committee member Vernon Jordan, Henry Kissinger, who was spotted talking to Donald Trump; Happy Rockefeller, the widow of Nelson Rockefeller; Lord Weidenfeld, Elaine Wolfensohn, the wife of World Bank president and close David Rockefeller friend James Wolfensohn; and Mort Zuckerman. [101] Most of these people Epstein would have already known through Greenberg, Wexner, Maxwell, the CFR and the Trilateral Commission. They represent the elite of the elite - of the elite.

- 2000: Epstein sets up the Jeffrey Epstein IV Foundation through which he donates up to $200 million per year to science projects involving evolutionary biology, neuroscience, artificial intelligence, cancer, and HIV. In this capacity he becomes associated with quark-discoverer Murray Gell-Mann, a science board co-chair of the Epstein-funded Santa Fe Institute [102], and Stephen Hawking, both also leading atheist skeptics.

Gell-Mann, for example, has been a fellow of the Committee for Scientific Inquiry and Claims of the Paranormal (CSICOP), a director of Southern California Skeptics (SCS) and a speaker at the James Randi Educational Foundation (JREF). ISGP has always considered these groups CIA, because they only debunk artificially built-up CIA disinformers that appear on shows as Coast to Coast AM. They engage in nothing but roleplay. Gell-Mann, who already noted in 2011 that "there are always pretty ladies around" when he goes to dinner with Epstein [103], is more interesting than average, because he has also been a JASON Group national security scientist, a CFR member and a 1979-2002 director of the Rockefeller-tied "liberal CIA" MacArthur Foundation.

- Early 2000s: Senator George Mitchell is a regular visitor to Epstein's house and described by Virginia as "very close to Jeffrey". Mitchell is a Democrat superclass member, elected the first chairman of George Soros' International Crisis Group in 1995. [104] In 2003 President Bush picked him to serve as the initial vice chairman of the super-sensitive 9/11 Commission under chairman Henry Kissinger. Criticism over Kissinger's appointment led to Kissinger and him being replaced by two other superclass members. Mitchell also was a Bilderberg steering committee member [105] and a 2011 visitor of the Munich Security Conference.

- Early 2000s: A business partner of Epstein in England becomes key Rothschild agent Lord Peter Mandelson. [106]

- 2002: Epstein takes Bill Clinton and (now disgraced) actor Kevin Spacey for an AIDS awareness tour through Africa.

- 2003: Epstein provides Harvard with $30 million for its Program for Evolutionary Dynamics. According to Epstein friend Alan Dershowitz, Lynn Forester de Rothschild introduces Epstein and Dershowitz to each other, although the two have already known each other since at least 1997. [107]

Lord Black with Kissinger. Here listed as a Pilgrims Society member in 2002.
Black went to prison for fraud in 2007, but was later pardoned by

- 2013: Epstein finances Michael Bloomberg's Young Men's Initiative, along with George Soros' Open Society Institute. [108] He is also listed as a member of Harvard's Mind, Brain and Behavior Committee. [109]

Did these elite friends know? One assumes so, just looking at the protection he received in both Florida and New York City from the prosecutor's office, or at some of the old pictures of Epstein hanging around with young girls, or various elites visiting his home, or some of the comments made about him, most notably Donald Trump's 2002 statement that Epstein "likes beautiful women ... many of them are on the younger side." Vanity Fair refused to publish evidence in 2003 that Epstein was persuining underaged women at that point. In January 2020 the widow of top superclass member Senator John McCain said:

President Trump, one of his old buddies.

> "A girl from my daughter's high school was one of his victims. ... Epstein was hiding in plain sight. We all knew about him. We all knew what he was doing. But we had no legal aspect - of people who would go after him." [110]

Then again, when Epstein's case first made it to the headlines in September 2006 [111], he did not have many of his elite associations anymore. Still, looking at the 2013-launched Young Men Initiative, it may well be that Epstein's superclass association would have been rebuild to an extent over time. Being super-rich and a great money-maker clearly will do that. The constant legal pressure of his victims, combined with media attention, came to thwart that, however, initially in January 2015 and then much more final in 2019.

Ironically, if Michael Bloomberg, the billionaire Democrat candidate of 2020, ever makes it to the presidency, it means Epstein had ties to three U.S. presidents: two on the Democrat side and one on the Republican.

The game now repeats itself with a clearly very guilty Prince Andrew and Ghislaine Maxwell, who have been receiving protection from the governments of Great Britain and Israel. [112] If they manage to stay out of the hands of the justice system, it will be interesting to see to what extent they will be rehabilitated over the next few decades.

Death, disinformation, and brother's elite ties

The Epstein case certainly took a bizarre twist. This article - as it can be read here - already had been done a good 80% since 2015. While thinking of finishing it up, on July 6, 2019, international headlines read that Epstein had been arrested again. On July 23 he made his first suicide attempt while having Nicholas Tartaglione, a bodybuilding, quadruple murdering ex-cop as his cellmate. Epstein survived and refused to talk about any of the details. On August 10, 2019, after a second, successful suicide attempt, Epstein was no more.

Epstein's death lead to a huge amount of controversy. The question is if accusations of murder are deserved. Apparently Epstein tied a bedsheet around his neck and leaned forward, explaining why he broke and injured a number of bones towards the front of his neck. The prison was severely understaffed, giving us an explanation as to why camera's weren't properly maintained and why the crew didn't check up on him for a number of hours.

If one wants to demonstrate that a murder took place, it would be crucial to have video footage of one or more individuals moving towards his cell in the relevant time period. For the time being, it doesn't appear footage like this exists. Thus, I would be very hesitant to call it a murder, let alone a "government murder", especially considering what a horror prisons are for pedophiles, prominent ones in particular. Reading how he was depositing money in the accounts of other inmates to prevent being attacked, it might well be that the constant threats to his personal well-being pushed him over the edge. Talk about a failure of the justice system.

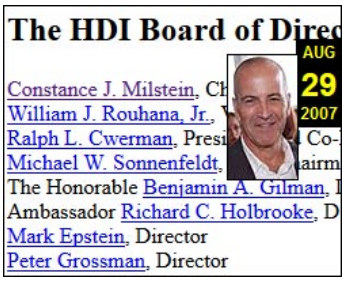
While it is certainly possible that officials within the prison system were careless with his safety, if someone very powerful was genuinely worried that Epstein would be talking, it probably would have been smartest to kill him before his final arrest, because chances of him getting arrested again were pretty significant.

Alex Jones' "Justice for Epstein" rally.

Also, let's look at who has been spinning stories of Epstein's "assassination". As usual, there's conspiracy guru Alex Jones, who hails from a CIA family and has never spoken a truthful word in his life. You'd think Jones could make better use of his time than defending the legacy of a dead pedophile by running down the street with "Epstein Didn't Kill Himself" signs. Unless, he's stirring up the umpteenth bogus controversy, of course.

Then there's the fact that Jeffrey Epstein's brother, Mark Epstein, together with Jeffrey Epstein's defense, hired pathologist Dr. Michael Baden. Mark Epstein and Baden ended up becoming leading skeptics of the suicide theory. It must be said, they ask reasonable questions about the investigation, questions that are unlikely to ever be answered by the FBI and other official investigators. [113]

The fact still remains though that Dr. Michael Baden, in 1978-1979, was chairman of the House Select Committee on Assassinations' (HSCA's) Forensic Pathology Panel, where he upheld the official theory surrounding the JFK assassination. If that's not enough, in 1995 his supportive statements about one or more questionable aspects in O.J. Simpson's testimony, played a crucial role in getting O.J. Simpson off the hook for murder. [114]



As for Mark Epstein, since 2007 this brother of Jeffrey Epstein has served on the board of the Humpty Dumpty Institute, which "forges innovative public-private partnerships [and] foster[s] dialogue between the United Nations and the U.S. Congress." Major financiers of the Humpty Dumpty Institute have included the United Nations Foundation of Ted Turner and Maurice Strong, as well as various U.S. government department. [115] Super-globalist Richard Holbrooke, a very close friend of the likes of Henry Kissinger and David Rockefeller, still was a director of the HDI - one of 8 - in 2007 when Mark Epstein joined. At that point, Constance Milstein still was the founding chair of HDI. [116] In the late 1990s and early 2000s, Milstein shared the board of Refugees International with George Soros, Rockefeller man Frank Wisner II (CIA family) and other elites as Queen Noor of Jordan. [117] She also could be found on the board of Madeleine Albright's National Democratic Institute for International Affairs (NDI) [118], along with Rockefeller buddies as James Wolfensohn.

2006: Asia Society chair Richard Holbrooke, known to both Epstein brothers, with Happy Rockefeller - the wife of Nelson - and David Rockefeller. Kissinger, Kofi Annan and Sen. Jay Rockefeller also present.

So, what does this mean? It means Mark Epstein is not just an innocent bystander in the Jeffrey Epstein saga. He might not be Trilateral Commission or CFR, but clearly Mark Epstein sold his soul to the globalist movement as well. There doesn't appear to be anything independent about him.

Also, let's not forget that disinformation on the (non-conspiracy) RFK assassination has not just been spread by conspiracy disinformers as Michael Ruppert and John Pilger. No, mainstream media outlets as the Washington Post and quite a few others have actively been pushing the (faulty) conspiracy-point-of-view here, working in-tandem with bogus witnesses and even with "liberal CIA"-type activist RFK, Jr. Why? Because RFK, Jr. sold his soul, probably quite similarly to both JFK and RFK.

Fact is, also in the Netherlands - in 2012 - the mainstream media aided in spreading conspiracy disinformation about the murder of "alt-right" politician Pim Fortuyn. So, in other words: just because the mainstream media is screaming "conspiracy" on the Epstein case, doesn't mean that Epstein has actually been murdered. In the modern era, it appears that elites have just stopped with even trying to keep up appearances as to the "mainstream" media being trustworthy. You really can't trust any reporting anymore.

Summary and conclusions

I'm still unsure how to feel about the Jeffrey Epstein case. It's pretty clear that for the longest time the prosecutor's offices in Florida and New York were protecting Epstein's activities. If Palm Beach police chief Michael Reiter hadn't pushed for more serious charges against Epstein, quite possibly we would have never heard about the case.

It must be said though, the activities of Epstein regarding the solicitation of underage "masseuses" were far from average, even among the power elite. Epstein really was a pedophile, in the sense that he was primarily sexually interested in girls below the age of 18. As a result, he was running a personal, full-time recruitment scheme with dozens of underage girls being spotted around his Palm Beach mansion at all hours of the night.

This situation is different from a lot of historic cases with accusations of child abuse networks being covered up. Quite a few accusations exist of Special Branch in Great Britain covering up all child abuse cases in which elite names surface. [119] With Haut de la Garenne, successive police chiefs looked the other way for decades. In the Dutroux X-Dossiers, countless leading police chiefs and judges could be found among the alleged abusers, with reports existing that sexual abuse took place in clubs in Brussels in districts were the police could be counted on to cover things up. None of that with Epstein. So he ended up getting caught.

Epstein still enjoyed a degree of protection, but without the local police on board and now with the internet and social media around, there clearly is only so much that can be covered up. After a while, Epstein simply had to go, just to give the masses a sense that there is still a degree of accountability for "the rich". It's also the #MeToo era, so that also went against Epstein.

While it is a good thing that Epstein was caught, it still is a first-rate disgrace that America's justice system failed to protect him. The fact that Epstein had to fear for his life to the point he had to pay off other prisoners, really is a terrible tragedy in what is supposed to be a modern democracy. If Epstein was a Marc Dutroux who kidnapped, raped and murdered young girls, that would be one thing. But he didn't. Not as far as we know.

In fact, many of his "victims", really don't seem to have been true victims at all. They benefited financially from moderately sexual massages they provided for a not-unattractive billionaire and even recruited other girls for him. Former boyfriends and associates of Virginia, such as Philip Guderyon and Crystal Figueroa, testified to that, and indicated many of the girls, including Virginia, were more than happy to be financially compensated for doing whatever they did for Epstein, and also recruit other girls with a reputation for being "slutty". In later years many of these same girls benefited from exaggerating their story, denying their own culpability, and demand millions upon millions in settlements. Underage or not, that is not something that should just be overlooked.

Hence, it would have been nice if Epstein was protected by America's judicial system and if he would have gotten a fair trial, open to the public. It appears that is too much to ask though. One moment the media ignores elite crimes; next thing you know they lead the witch hunt, unjustly elevating many old female co-conspirators to the sole status of "victim", aiding them once again in their financial exploits.

UPDATES

2025: "Conservative CIA" turns on Trump over "Mossad agent" Epstein

Quickly after Trump came in as U.S. president again in January 2025, much of the "conservative CIA" clique that was instrumental in getting him elected, teamed up with their "rival" antifa and turned on him over his support of Israel over Hamas (yes, really), and started to draw attention to Trump's ties to "Mossad agent" Jeffrey Epstein. We're talking names as Elon Musk, Tucker Carlson, Nick Fuentes, Andrew Tate, and Candice Owens, as well as somewhat more independent-thinking podcasters as Theo Von and Joe Rogan, in no small part through the guests they invited. Meanwhile, liberal-globalist media were also continually tying Trump to Epstein, while more traditional right-wing media occasionally focused on new details about the Epstein-Clinton connection.

None of this propaganda can be taken serious, as none of the media ever do unique research, not based on unique documentation, and not based on unique analyses - as ISGP has a habit of doing, such as when it noticed ties between the Haut de la Garenne case and the Epstein case.

Feb. 2026: Epstein confirms David Rockefeller recruitment for Trilateral Commission in leaked 2019 video

Most of the new information that came out in 2025 wasn't interesting either. It proved nothing new in terms of a wider network of child abuse. More details on ties of Epstein as persons as Larry Summers weren't overly revealing either. As already repeatedly discussed and sources, Jeffrey Epstein was a member of David Rockefeller and Henry Kissinger's Trilateral Commission in the 1995-2007 period, overlapping with the membership of Summers from 2003 to 2018, whose Epstein ties also had already been known for years. The media never wanted to talk about Epstein's Trilateral Commission, but that connection alone means there have always been a huge amount of pictures of Epstein with elite globalists as Summers that have been covered up. And we're not even talking about Epstein joining the CFR and the board of Rockefeller University, in the latter instance at the same time as the wife as Henry Kisisnger. All that transpired in 1995 as well.

As it turns out, in early February 2026 a long interview of Jeffrey Epstein by Steve Bannon was leaked. In it Epstein confirmed what this author had been suggesting for over 6 years: that Epstein indeed was close to David Rockefeller. In fact, Rockefeller himself recruited Epstein to the Trilateral Commission, and seems to have played a role in bringing him to Rockefeller University as well:

> "[In 1995] I was asked to be on the board of Rockefeller [University, because] there was a money manager who said, "Rockefeller needs someone with financial expertise, because the university is growing, and there's lots of new things [in terms of moving away from name/reputation and in automatization of mathematics]. ... Could you come on the board, potentially sit on the finance committee [with] Nancy Kissinger and a bunch of other people?" ..."
>
> "David [Rockefeller] would say, "Jeffrey, money is going to be sort of the most important thing. People don't understand money. You seem to have this knack for money." ... And David Rockefeller and I got along very well. He was just an unbelievable human being. Respectful to everyone. He introduced his driver as his colleague, not his driver. ...
>
> "David started to explain to me world politics. ... He formed something called the Trilateral Commission. The Trilateral Commission is some spooky stuff. People said it was the Illuminati, so there's a sort of mystery about it. ... David said [to me], in most countries the politicians get elected for 4 years or 8 years ... and then they're not there anymore. The most important people to have stability and consistency would be businessmen. So he formed this Trilateral Commission of businessmen and politicians from three major continents. ... So he said to me, "Would you like to be on the Trilateral Commission?" I was 30 years old, 32 years old. I said, "Great." And he said, "Well, you have to fill out this application so they have your bio." And I looked at the list of people and it was Bill Clinton, former president of the United States; Paul Volcker, every great leader in America, the Asians, the Japanese, and with a very long description of their history. And they asked me to fill in what I would like to have written, and I wrote "Jeffrey Epstein, comma, just a good kid," which I thought was funny - nobody else did."[120]

Hence, there's every indication that Epstein was friendly with David Rockefeller and Henry Kissinger from 1995 until he ran into trouble with the law in the 2007-2009 period. This is still being covered up by all sides, including the power these two men alone represented. They were the key players in Bilderberg as well, with Kissinger having been an old mentor of Davos founder Klaus Schwab.

Epstein still a friendly pedo

As said, most of the new information that came out in 2025 and early 2026 wasn't that interesting or revealing. There are useful bits and pieces though. Among them are old testimonies against Epstein as the following one, all the way from September 3, 1996, filed by a certain Maria Farmer:

> "Complainant [stated] that she is a professional artist and took pictures of her sisters 12 and 16 yrs for her own personnel [sic] art work... Epstein stole the photos and negatives and is believed to have sold the pictures to potential buyers. Epstein at one time requested [redacted] to take pictures of young girls at swimming pools. EPSTEIN is now threatening [redacted] that if she tells anyone about the photos, he will burn her house down."[121]

Combine this with photos of Epstein playfully hugging and kissing all kinds of girls around the age of 7-10 [122], and it can be said with a high degree of certainty that Epstein indeed was a dedicated pedophile - and at the very least quite a nuisance to many girls and women around him. But that also doesn't fundamentally change anything that we haven't already written and concluded about him. Epstein still isn't at the level of a Marc Dutroux. And he is not known to have burned anyone's house down, or killed any witnesses to shut them up. So you can't take a threat along these lines too serious either. In the heat of the moment, or when panicking, people say a lot of things.

2026: email releases contain interesting tidbits

Will be written later.

APPENDICES

A: 107 important names plus bios from Epstein's black book

This book was made available by Jeffrey Epstein's former butler, Alfredo Rodriguez. The names in bold here were said to have observed - but not necessarily partaken in - Epstein's underage sexual exploits.

Archer, Bill	Congressman from Texas 1971-2001. Lawyer. Chairman International Conservation Caucus

	Foundation. Senior policy analyst at PriceWaterhouseCoopers.
Astor, Viscount William	From a leading Anglo-American Pilgrims Society family.
Aznar, Jose Maria	Appears to be the former right-wing Spanish prime minister from 1996 to 2004, who became involved in many neocon NGOs. In ISGP's Superclass Index. Director of Rupert Murdoch's News Corporation.
Barak, Ehud	Paternal grandparents murdered by the Russian Empire in 1912. Maternal grandparents died in the holocaust. Graduate in physics, mathematics, and economics from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Stanford University. Joint highest decorated soldier of Israel. Chief of the general staff 1991-1995. Minister of foreign affairs 1995-1996. Minister of defense 1999-2001. Israeli prime minister 1999-2001. Minister of defense 2007-2013. 8 contact numbers. Daily Mail: "Another acquaintance was Israel defence secretary Ehud Barak, whose spokesman told The Mail on Sunday: 'Mr Barak did attend several small functions in Mr Epstein's home in New York that were usually attended by leading businessman, university presidents, Nobel Prize Laureates and prominent public figures.'"
Black, Conrad	Disgraced Canadian media magnat, who also owned the Jerusalem Post and various British newspapers. In ISGP's Superclass Index. Member Trilateral Commission, Bilderberg steering committee, the CFR's international board, Americas Society, and the 1001 Club.
Blaine, David	Famous illusionist.
Blair, Tony	U.K. prime minister. Chairman international advisory council of the Rockefeller's JPMorgan Chase bank since 2010. In ISGP's Superclass Index.
Bloomberg, Michael	Billionaire businessman. Mayor of New York. In ISGP's Superclass Index.
Branson, Richard	Virgin founder. Billionaire playboy and super-philanthropist. Operator of the "UFO balloon" during the 1990 Project Blackbird, in which Colin Andrews and Pat Delgado were famously investigating crop circles on national television. In ISGP's Superclass Index.

Briatore, Flavio	Former restaurant manager and insurance salesman. Assistant to businessman Attilio Dutto, who was killed in a car bomb attack in 1979 by unknown perpetrators. Moved to Milan to work at the stock exchange. Here he met Luciano Benetton, for whom he opened the first five Benetton stores in the United States that same year. By 1989 there were 800 Benetton stores in the United States, making Briatore a very wealthy man. Convicted in the 1980s on various charges of gambling fraud and conspiracy which had netted him and his associates huge profits. To avoid a prison sentence of 1 year and 2 months, he moved to Saint Thomas in the Virgin Islands in 1987. Never went to prison and returned after both convictions were extinguished by amnesty. Set up a number of successful Benetton franchises while a fugitive in the Virgin Islands. Appointed commercial director of Luciano Benetton's Formula One team in 1988. In 1990 he was promoted to manager of the Benetton Formula One racing team and quickly hired a young and now world famous Michael Schumacher as their driver. During the 1994 season, Briatore's Benetton team was convicted of cheating, resulting in fines and a two-year race ban for Schumacher. In 1996 Schumacher and various key technical staffers moved over to Ferrari, turning Benetton into a mid-level team. In 1997 Briatore was replaced as manager of the Benetton team. Made a come back in 2000 when Renault returned to F1 in 2000, bought the Benetton team, and hired Briatore (known as a talent scout) as manager. Forced to resign in 2009 due to his involvement in race fixing.
Broglie, Louis Albert de	Giscard, his father Edmond, together with associates as Prince Jean de Broglie, Robert Leclerc and members of Le Cercle are said to have introduced Opus Dei to France.
Bronfman, Edgar, Jr.	Member of the famous Jewish-Canadia Bronfman family. CEO of Seagrams since 1994. Vice-chairman of Vivendi Universal. CEO of Warner Music Group since 2004. The family, which is in ISGP's Superclass Index, has been a key player in the international Zionist movement for decades..

Brunel, Jean-Luc	Ran a modeling agency. Reportedly procured girls for Epstein.
Busson, Arki	Son of a wealthy Hungarian finanier. Protege of Gianni Agnelli, known for his involvement in Bilderberg, the 1001 Club, and being one of the closest friends of Henry Kissinger. Runs the Absolute Return for Kids (ARK) charity. His aunt is Joanna Harcourt-Smith, who had a son with LSD and psychedelic mushroom guru Dr. Timothy Leary.
Cisneros, Gustavo	Latin America billionaire media baron. Very close to the Rockefeller and involved in many NGOs. Knight of Malta. 1001 Club. Superclass Index.
Clinton, Bill	Bill Clinton's phone number was listed under "Doug Bands". 21 different contact numbers. Married Hillary Clinton in 1975. Attorney general of Arkansas 1977-1979. Governor of Arkansas 1980s. U.S. president 1993-2001. Deeply involved in the NGO network since then. Superclass Index.
Dershowitz, Alan	15 contact numbers in Epstein black book. Harvard law professor. Describes himself as a liberal, pro-(Third World) immigration Democrat, but at the same time has heavy duty neocon ties. Once the favorite liberal debater of elite conservative CIA asset William Buckley. Annot 2019 advises Trump on Middle East policy - two-state solution - and who to nominate for the Supreme Court. For the rest, pro-Third World immigration. Outspoken critic of "liberal CIA" new left gurus Noam Chomsky and Alexander Cockburn of Counterpunch and vice versa. At the same time, listed among the contributors to the "conservative CIA" neocon David Horowitz Freedom Center, together with Ann Coulter, Charles Krauthammer, Michael Reagan, Daniel Pipes and Robert Spencer. As editors of Ramparts Magazine in the 1960s and 1970s, David Horowitz and Peter Collier used to be the complete opposite: very left-wing and outspoken CIA and Vietnam War critics. Chomsky used to contribute to Ramparts. Lawyer and friend of Jeffrey Epstein. Accused by victim-witness Virginia Roberts of having raped her. Denies this. Has visited a birthday party of Lord Jacob Rothschild with Prince Andrew and Jeffrey Epstein. Explained that "Lady de Rothschild" introduced him to Jeffrey Epstein in 2003 when Epstein made his $30 million grant to Harvard. He's lying here, considering flight logs already repeatedly put him and Epstein together in the 1997-1998 period, along with a number of young girls traveling along. On the international advisory board of the neocon-leaning NGO Monitor, together with Elliott Abrams, former CIA director James Woolsey, Elie Wiesel, Abraham Sofaer and Colonel Richard Kemp. gatestoneinstitute.org/about/ (accessed: January 2, 2016): "ambassador John R. Bolton, Chairman. Nina Rosenwald, President. Naomi H. Perlman, Vice President. Board of Governors (in formation): The Viscountess Bearsted; Baroness Caroline Cox; Alan Dershowitz; The Lord Finkelstein OBE... Amir Taheri, Chairman, Europe Board of Governors. ... Board of Advisors (in formation): ... Richard Kemp... Elie Wiesel; R. James Woolsey."

Dreesmann, Bernard	Member of the 1001 Club family behind the Dutch V&D department store chain. Lived in England, where he was executive chair of Morleys Stores, Ltd.
Duke of York	The second son of Prince Philip and Queen Elizabeth II, behind his brother Prince Andrew. Served as Britain's special representative for international trade and investment.
Epstein, Edward Jay	Former political science professor at Harvard, MIT and UCLA. Has been a life-long critic of the Warren Commission. Skeptical of the single bullet theory and suspects there was a second shooter at the grassy knoll. However, took over CIA propaganda of James Angleton (who almost certainly was involved in the planning) that Oswald had backing of the Soviet Union in the plot to kill JFK. Met with Georges De Mohrenschildt on the day of his assassination.

Epstein, Jeffrey	Born in a middle class Jewish family in 1953. Resides on the U.S. Virgin Islands. Options trader at Bear Stearns in 1976, after having been a teacher to the son of Bear Stearns chairman Alan Greenberg. Greenberg belonged to the Alfalfa Club, the Joint Distribution Committee of New York, the Jerusalem Foundation, and the UJA Federation of New York, the boards of which he shared with the Bronfmans, Rothschilds, and men as Edmond Safra and Lord Weidenfeld. Partner in Bear Stearns 1980-1982. Formed J. Epstein & Co. in 1982. Billionaire Leslie Wexner, owner of a chain of women's clothing stores and soon owner of Abercrombie & Fitch, became a client in 1987. Wexner also owns the brands Victoria's Secret and Bath & Body Works. In 1996 Epstein changed his company name to The Financial Trust Company and based it in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Established the Jeffrey Epstein VI Foundation, which funds science and education involving evolutionary biology, neuroscience, artificial intelligence, cancer, HIV, and global threats to Earth to the tune of $200 million per year. Has associated with Murray Gell-Mann and Stephen Hawking. Arrested in July 2006. Palm Beach police chief Michael Reiter wrote to state attorney Barry Krischer to complain about the highly unusual behavior of the prosecutors which resulted in only a single charge of felony solicitation of prostitution. Indications that Epstein was using girls to blackmail influential associates with hidden cameras were ignored. Convicted to 18 months in prison in June 2008 for solicitating an underage girl for prostitution. Spent 13 months in jail and was released in July 2009. Epstein's butler, Alfredo Rodriguez, was also sent to prison for 18 months for trying to sell Epstein's black book of worldwide associates, some of which he had witnessed as fellow abusers or witnesses to Epstein's activities. FBI special agent Christina Pryor reviewed the material and claimed it would have been very useful. Alleged victim-witness Virginia Roberts came out later, claiming she was abused by Epstein and friends as the Duke of York, and that Epstein forced her to have sex with certain people in order to get information from them. While Roberts certainly was involved with these people, it is not clear to what extent she willingly went along with the sex in return for money. At least two other anonymous victims have tried to begin $50 million law suits against Epstein.

Firyal of Jordan, Princess	Married to Prince Muhammed bin Talal 1964-1978. Firyal herself has been involved in the Americas Society. Director United Nations Association. Trustee New York Public Library and the International Rescue Committee. The Jordanian royal family is high up in ISGP's Superclass Index.
Forbes, Steve	From a wealthy Pilgrims Society family. Important neocon these days. Superclass Index.
Forbes, Kip	Brother of Steve Forbes. Vice chair Forbes Publishing company. Restored Chateau de Balleroy in Normandy, France.
Furstenberg, Alex von	Son of Jewish billionaire fashion icon Princess Diane von Furstenberg, who married Prince Egon von Furstenberg in 1969. Divorced in 1972, but kept the name.
Furstenberg, Prince Heinrich von	Present-day head of the house of Furstenberg.
Furstenberg, Nina von	Another member of the house of Furstenberg.
Gell-Mann, Murray	JASON scientist. CFR member. Professional skeptic. Director MacArthur Foundation, which has financed professional skeptic James Randi, 1979-2002. Fellow of the Committee for Scientific Inquiry and Claims of the Paranormal (CSICOP). Visitor of James Randi's The Amazing Meeting, the Bilderberg for skeptics. Benefactor of James Randi Educational Fund (JREF).
Goldsmith, Isabel	As granddaughter of Princess Maria Cristina de Bourbon and Bolivian tin magnat Antenor Patino, a member of the 1001 Club, heir to 1.6 billion pounds. Daughter of Isabella Patino, who may have been murdered by her father, and Sir James Goldsmith, a MI6 and SAS private covert operations insider.
Goulandris, Dimitri	From a Greek shipping family with 1001 Club involvement. Harvard. Spent 8 years at Morgan Stanley. Managing director of J.H.,

	Whitney & Co. John Hay Whitney came from a robber baron family, was a long-time Pilgrims Society vice president, and was close to the CIA.
Princess Olga Greece	Member of the Greek royal family, intermarried with the houses of Savoy (Italy), Karadordevic (Serbia), Greece, and the tsars in Russia.
Habsburg, Francesca	Daughter of Hans Heinrich Thyssen-Bornemisza. Educated at Institut Le Rosey in Switzerland. Wife of Karl von Habsburg, son of Otto von Habsburg.
Habsburg, Marie	Unknown Habsburg family member living in London.
Hambro, Clementine	Daughter of Richard Hambro, a member of the Jewish-British Hambro banking family, which has been involved in the Pilgrims Society and is close to British intelligence. Also a daughter of Charlotte Soames, a granddaughter of Winston Churchill.
Hefner, Robert A., III	Founder and owner of GHK Company, an Oklahoma-based natural gas and oil firm. Pioneered ultradeep natural gas exploration. Member international council of Harvard's Belfer Center, where former CIA director John Deutch, Nat Rothschild, Russian oligarch and Rothschild-friend Oleg Deripaska, Larry Summers, and other elites can also be found.
Heineken, Freddie	Founder of Heineken Breweries in the Netherlands. Once kidnapped for ransom by later prominent Dutch gangsters. Friend of the late Prince Bernhard. 1001 Club. The company has also been represented at Bilderberg.
Heseltine, Mr. & Mrs.	Reasonably prominent British politician whose family has been involved in the Pilgrims Society. Patron Tory Reform Group.
Heseltine, Annabel	See above.
Heseltine, Rupert	See above.
Hersov, Robert B.	Son of South Africa's powerful Anglovaal Group mining magnat Basel Hersov, a member of the 1001 Club (along with a R.L. Hersov) and visitor of Le Cercle. His career involved Goldman Sachs, Morgan Stanley, Rupert Murdoch's News Corporation, and Anton Rupert's Richemont.
Kennedy, Sen. Edward	Brother of the assassinated Jack and Bobby Kennedy. Senator from Massachusetts from 1962 until his death in 2009.
Kennedy, Ted, Jr.	Son of Senator Edward Kennedy.

Kennedy, Ethel	Widow of the in 1968 assassinated Bobby Kennedy.
Kennedy, Bobby & Mary	More members of the famous Kennedy family.
Kerry, Sen. John	Senator from Massachusetts 1985-2013. Earth Day participant in the early 1990s, through which he met his wife, Teresa Heinz, the widow of John Heinz III, whose father, John Heinz II, was a co-founder of Bilderberg with David Rockefeller and a decades-long annual visitor. Chairman Senate Foreign Relations Committee 2009-2013. Secretary of state 2013-2017, during the rise of ISIS. Special presidential envoy for climate 2021-.
King, Gov. Bruce	Democratic governor of New Mexico 1971-1975, 1979-1983, 1991-1995.
Kissinger, Henry	Superclass Index. Rockefeller protege, former national security advisor and secretary of state, involved in NGOs as the Pilgrims Society, Le Cercle, CFR, Trilateral Commission, Bilderberg, Bohemian Grove, CSIS, etc. No introduction needed.
Kirwan-Taylor, Peter	British financier who designed the body for the original 1957 Lotus Elite car. Involved in the Jersey International Bank of Commerce in the 1970s, together with an N.M. Rothschild & Sons partner and Senators Wilfred Krichefsi and Re Jeune, both key persons involved in the Haut de la Garenne child abuse scandal. Member Pilgrims Society. Died in 2014.
Kirwan-Taylor, Charles	Graduated from Oxford in 1979. Background at Barclays, Kleinwort Benson, and Credit Suisse. Today an executive of Hakluyt & Co.
Koch, David	Member of the conservative Koch family, worth $41 billion.
Kravis, Henry	Jewish billionaire financier who, along with his wife, is very active in many NGOs. Bilderberg regular together with his wife since the 1990s. Close to the Rockefellers and Rothschilds. Involved in the WTC Memorial Foundation. In ISGP's Superclass Index.
Livanos, Arrietto	From a Greek shipping family with 1001 Club involvement.
Courtney Love	Alternative rock singer, best known as the wife of Nirvana singer Kurt Cobain.

Mallinckrodt, Philip	Decades-long director and chair of J. Henry Schroder Bank in London and Zurich. Member Pilgrims Society, British-North American Committee (BNAC), and DAVOS.
Mandelson, Lord Peter	Very close friend of Jacob and Nat Rothschild. Involved in the CFR, RIIA, Bilderberg, Trilateral Commission, Ditchley, DAVOS, and more. Superclass Index.
Maxwell, Ghislaine	Favorite daughter of Jewish billionaire tycoon Robert Maxwell. Robert Maxwell fled the Nazis and then fought them as a soldier in the Czechoslovak army in exile. MP in the 1960s. Became a media tycoon after that, who owned the British Printing Corporation, Mirror Group Newspapers, and Macmillan, Inc., Pergamon Press, etc. Known for his flamboyant lifestyle. Maxwell had to sell his Pergamon Press in 1989 to cover some of his debts. After his mysterious death in 1992 by falling of a yacht and drowning, banks began to call in loans, leading to the collapse of his empire. It was soon found out that he had robbed the Mirror's pension fund of 120 million pounds. Ghiaslaine is an ex-lover of Jeffrey Epstein. Accused of recruiting underage prostitutes. Guest at Chelsea Clinton's wedding in 2010.
Maxwell, Kevin & Pandora	Son and daughter-in-law of Robert Maxwell. Along with Ian acquitted in 1996 from charges that he helped his father plunder 120 million pounds from the Mirror group's pension fund.
Maxwell, Ian & Tara	Son and daughter-in-law of Robert Maxwell.
Maxwell, Dr. Philip	Son of Robert Maxwell.
Maxwell, Anne	Daughter of Robert Maxwell.
Maxwell, Christine	Daughter of Robert Maxwell.
Maxwell, Isabel	Daughter of Robert Maxwell.
Maxwell, E.	Most likely former wife Elizabeth, whom he was married to from 1946 to 1991.
Maxwell, Debbie	Member of the Maxwell family.
Maxwell, Marcella	Member of the Maxwell family.
McAlpine, Lord Alistair	At the center of a 2012 child abuse scandal. In 1994 he had also been named as a homosexual pedophile in an obscure but very lengthy Scallywag magazine report. Lord Alistair McAlpin (1942-2014) was a concrete/construction baron, advisor to

	Margaret Thatcher, and a major financier of the Tory Party. Chairman of Sir James Goldsmith's euroskeptic Referendum Party and Referendum Movement 1996-1997 and headed the entire movement with Goldsmith's death in 1997. Goldsmith was an MI6/SAS asset, a Cercle visitor, and an elitist friend of Henry Kissinger, with who sons who married Rothschild family members (another family very close to child abuse accusations). In 1998 McAlpin and Goldsmith's son-in-law forged ties with Chechen mafia bosses/politicians Aslan Maskhadov and Khozh Akhmed Noukhaev. 1989, issue 1, Architects Today, p. 30: "The developer, Butlers Wharf Ltd, was set up especially for the project, with Sir Terence Conran as the major shareholder, and lesser stakes held by Jacob Rothschild, Lord McAlpine of West Green (the contractor), and architects Conran Roche." 1992, Brian Edwards, 'London docklands', p. 93: "By controlling so much, Conran and his partners Jacob Rothschild and Lord McAlpine [in Butlers Wharf Limited] imposed their conservation-led approach to regeneration upon a huge area like some latter day Medicis."
Mitchell, Sen. George	U.S. district court judge for Maine 1979-1980. Senator from Maine 1980-1995. 2nd deputy president pro tempore of the senate 1987-1989. Senate majority leader 1989-1995. U.S. special envoy for Northern Ireland 1995-2001. First chair of George Soros' super-elite International Crisis Group 1995-. Bilderberg steering committee member. Chancellor of Queen's University, Belfast 1999-2009. Initial 9/11 Commission vice chair under Henry Kissinger, but when Kissinger was ousted due to public protests, Mitchell went with him. U.S. special envoy for Middle East peace 2009-2011. Daily Mail: "Virginia said that yet another American liberal icon, President Obama's Middle East peace envoy Senator George Mitchell, frequently visited Epstein's New York residence."

Monckton, Rosa	Daughter of Gilbert Monckton, 2nd Viscount Monckton of Brenchley. Her daughter Domenica Lawson had Princess Diana as her godmother. The 3rd Viscount Monckton is an outspoken climate skeptic.
Niarchos, Constantine	A son of billionaire 1001 Club member Stavors Niarchos, who made his fortune building an oil tanker fleet. Very close to David Rockefeller and Gianni Agnelli, both also of ther 1001 Club. July 8, 1999, The Independent, 'Billionaire died in cocaine binge after seeking one thrill too many': "Mr Niarchos, known as "Gus", was one of the world's richest men. He inherited a share of an estimated pounds 7bn fortune after the death of his father, Stavros, in 1996. He was based in the Swiss ski resort of St Moritz. His first marriage to Princess Alessandra Borghese ended in divroce after a year. ... He was a contemporary of Prince Andrew and Prince Edward at Gordonstoun and was expelled after one of the princes' found cannabis in a hollowed-out chair leg. ... Constantine Niarchos never did things by halves. When the shipping billionaire took up mountaineering, he had to conquer Everest. And when he took cocaine, he consumed more than any other recreational user. Just 17 days after becoming the first Greek to climb Everest, Mr Niarchos took a fatal cocaine overdose at his flat in Mayfair, central London. The 37-year-old godson of the former King of Greece was so desperate for the drug that he dried out wet cocaine in the microwave and ate lumps the size of 50 pence pieces... Medical experts told the court that Mr Niarchos had consumed 25 times the normal level of cocaine found in deaths related to the drug, an amount which has only been exceeded by a smuggler who brought the drug into Britain in his stomach."
Olmert, Ehud	Knesset member. Belonged to the Likud Party 1973-2006, and Kadima since 2006. Mayor of Jerusalem 1993-2003. Cabinet minister under Sharon 2003-2006. Prime minister of Israel 2006-2009. Has been involved in the Herzliya Conference and the Jerusalem Summit.
Oppenheim, Mr. Lauri	Member of a German-Jewish banking family of Sal Oppenheim, which was taken over by Deutsche Bank in 2010 for 1 billion euros.

Oppenheim, Marella	See above.
Ovitz, Michael	Talent agent who co-founded Creative Artists Agency (CAA) in 1975. Served as talent agent to: Tom Cruise, Dustin Hoffman, Kevin Costner, John Belushi, Michael Douglas, Sylvester Stallone, as well as director Steven Spielberg and Sydney Pollack. President Walt Disney Company October 1995 - January 1997 under chairman Michael Eisner. Left Disney with a severance package of $38 million cash and an estimated $100 million in stock. DIsney shareholders tried to sue him over the severance package, but failed.
Pearson, Charles	Younger son of the Third Viscount Cowdray, who served as chairman of S. Pearson & Son Ltd. from 1954 to 1977, and as president of Pearson PLC from 1983 to 1995. Distantly related to the Spencers and Churchills. Principal partner in the Dunecht Home Farms Partnership, a farming business operating over 3,000 acres (12 km2) in Aberdeenshire. Enterprises on the farm include cereals, oilseed rape, beef cattle and sheep.
Perelman, Ronald	A Jew who very much identifies with his religion. Wharton-educated. Billionaire with an estimated wealth of $14 billion in 2015. Businessman who controls MacAndrews & Forbes Holdings Inc. In the 1980s repeatedly accused of greenmailing. Almost hired Monica Lewinsky due to a recommendation of Clinton friend Vernon Jordan immediately before the scandal broke. Married 5 times.
Peterson, Holly & Riki	Holly is the daughter of billionaire Peter Peterson, chair of the Blackstone Group, one of the closest David Rockefeller friends, a Pilgrims Society member, and close to the top of ISGP's Superclass Index. Holly has been a producer for ABC News on global politics and is a CFR member.
Picciotto, Michael	Nephew of Jewish-Geneva banker and 1001 Club member Edgar de Picciotto. Invested $700 million in Bernie Madoff's fraudulant fund that ruined many investors around the world.
Price, Charles H., II	His wife Judy Price also listed. Businessman. U.S. ambassador to Belgium 1981-1983. Reagan's ambassador to the United Kingdom 1983-1989. Head of Ameribanc/ Mercantile Bancorporation Inc. (Kansas) 1989-1996. Director of British Airways PLC 1989-1996, the New York Times 1989-2002, Texaco 1989-2001, Sprint 1989-1995, etc.

Radziwill, Carole	ABC producer in Peter Jenning's documentary unit. Married Anthony Radziwill, a fellow ABC news producer, in East Hampton, New York. Radziwill is a member of old Polish nobility. Anthony was the only son of Prince Stanislas Radziwill of Poland and Lee Bouvier, the younger sister of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis. Became a columnist for Glamour Magazine in 2006.
Richardson, Gov. Bill	Son of an Anglo-American-Mexican Citibank executive. Staffer for secretary of state Henry Kissinger in the Nixon administration. Congressman from New Mexico 1983-1997. Clinton's ambassador to the United Nations 1997-1998. Clinton's secretary of energy 1998-2001. Governor of New Mexico 2003-2011. Nominated to be Obama's commerce secretary in December 2008, but withdrew a month later as he was investigated for improper business dealings. Member very elite Bretton Woods Committee (BWC) with David Rockefeller, Henry Kissinger, George Soros and the entire Trilateral Commission and Bilderberg crowd. Director of the World Resources Institute with Maurice Strong, William Ruckelshaus, Stephan Schmidheiny, and Al Gore. Senior fellow United States Institute of Peace (USIP) and advisory board New American Strategies for Security and Peace Congress with more elites.
Rockefeller, David	Superclass Index. Involved in the Pilgrims Society, 1001 Club, Le Cercle, CFR, Trilateral Commission, Bohemian Grove, Americas Society, etc. No introduction needed.
Ronson, Gerald	CEO of Heron International, involved in property management. In the mid-1960s he brought the first self-service petrol retail outlets to the UK. Jewish and philantropist to Jewish and non-Jewish causes. By 1989 one of the wealthiest people in the UK with a net worth of roughly $600 million. Convicted of conspiracy and fraud in 1990. Saved from collapse in the 1990s by loans from Rupert Murdoch and Bill Gates.
Rose, Charlie	Well-known CBS and PBS interviewer and broadcast journalist who often interviews superclass members. First recruited by Bill Moyers in 1974. Gave a speech at the Bohemian Grove in 2003 and has been involved in the Clinton Global Initiative.

Rothschild, Sir Evelyn de	Well-known Anglo-American financier, married to Lynn Forester de Rothschild. Family is in the Superclass Index.
Rothschild, Jessica de	Daughter of Sir Evelyn de Rothschild.
Rothschild, Hannah	Eldest cild of Lord Jacob Rothschild and sister of Nat Rothschild. As a documentary maker she has promoted family friend Lord Peter Mandelson for the prime ministership.
Rothschild, Edouard de	Son of the French Guy de Rothschild. In 1987 he founded with half-brother David Rene de Rothschild and cousin Eric de Rothschild the Rothschild & Cie Bank, of which he became head in 2003. Supervisory board member of Imerys until 2005.
Sachs, Jeffrey D.	Research associate National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) anno 1990. The NBER was stacked with top Rockefeller group economists as Arthur Burns, Robert Roosa, Peter Peterson, Martin Feldstein, and Jacob Frenkel. Invited to Bilderberg in 1990. Director of the Institute for International Development (HIID), JFK School, Harvard, 1995-1999. Together with Andre Schleifer, a Larry Summers (Harvard president and Rockefeller group) protege, they advised the Russian government on how to reform the post-Soviet economy. This went completely wrong when the two chief economic advisors to Yeltsin, the Zionists Yegor Gaidar and Anatoly Chubais, handed over all media and key natural resources to a group of Zionist friends, as well as some of Yeltsin's Russian allies. Part of the Marshall Visitor Program of International House, New York City, a Rockefeller group. Advisory board of the elite Peterson Institute for International Economics (IIE), stacked with Rockefeller economists. David Rockefeller, Lynn Forester de Rothschild, Lynn Forester de Rothschild, George Shultz, Maurice Greenberg Paul Volcker, Alan Greenspan and many others serve on its board. Member CFR. Economic advisor Brookings Institution. Head of the Earth Institute, Colombia University, since 2002. In 2009 a founding advisory board member of the Institute for New Economic Thinking (INET), founded with a $50 million grant of George Soros. On the board of the in 2012-founded New York Leadership for Accountable Government (NY-LEAD), together with David Rockefeller.

Safra, Edmond	Leading Jewish banker until his suspicious death in 2000, linked to Russia's IMF money laundering scandal. 1001 Club member.
Saud, Prince Salman	Deputy governor and governor of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, 1963-2011. Crown prince of Saudi Arabia 2012-January 2015. King of Saudi Arabia since January 2015.
Sebag-Montefiore, Simon & Santa	British journalist, historian, and author. Descendant of a wealthy Jewish family of bankers and diplomats spread out over the United States and Europe with origins in Morocco and Italy. At least one member, Henry (b. 1924), was involved in the Pilgrims Society. Another, Simon's great-uncle Sir Moses Montefiore, was a banking partner in N. M. Rothschild & Sons. For many decades the family has been friends with the Rothschilds, Schiffs, Loebs, and various non-Jewish politicians and aristocrats.
Silver, Ron	Jewish neocon actor with an alleged background as Far East CIA drug trafficker. Visited Le Cercle in 1986 and has been involved in various national security-linked films.
Soames, Rupert & Milly	Grandson of prime minister Winston Churchill and nephew of defense secretary Duncan Sandys. Family has been involved in the Pilgrims Society, White's, the Rothschild Bank, the Aegis Defence Services mercenary firm, SAS mercenary firm insider Sir James Goldsmith, and is close to the royal family.< /td>
Solomon, Andrew	Born and raised in Manhattan. BA in English Yale University. Journalist and author. Contributor to New York Times magazine 1993-2001. Gay and married to a man at the Spencer family estate of the late Princess Diana in 2007. Ph.D. in psychology in 2013.
Soros, Peter	Low profile younger nephew of billionaire George Soros. Epstein had 10 contact numbers for him. July 23, 2008, This is Money, 'Can Soros push the Footsie over the edge?': "Billionaire speculator [George Soros] weighed into the gloom this week with a prophecy that Britain and the United States were heading for recession. It was, he said, 'the most serious financial crisis of our lifetime'. As his words reverberated around the newswires on Tuesday, the markets plunged. Wall Street watched helplessly as 200 points were wiped off the Dow after federal reserve chairman Ben Bernanke warned of trouble ahead in the US economy. ... In London, the FTSE 100 index fell 160 points amid scenes of near-panic. There was a minor recovery but banking shares hit their lowest level for a decade. ... Talk in the City suggests Soros has taken a significant position on the FTSE 100 index. His nephew Peter Soros is believed to be overseeing the London operation, although when the Evening Standard contacted him yesterday by telephone he declined to speak. When asked if he was, in fact, heavily shorting the UK stock market, he replied 'no comment' on three occasions - and then hung up. It has been known for some time that Soros has gone short on European stocks but now the word is that, through his investment fund, he is staking a big down bet on London quoted shares. This is how speculators - and Soros is the daddy of them all - make money in falling markets. By buying financial instruments called futures it is possible to take a punt on the movement of the Footsie. Soros's bet, it is believed, is that it will go down." January 15, 2008, Wall Street Journal, 'Trader Made Billions on Subprime': "On Wall Street, the losers in the collapse of the housing market are legion. The biggest winner looks to be John Paulson, a little-known hedge fund manager who smelled trouble two years ago. Funds he runs were up $15 billion in 2007 on a spectacularly successful bet against the housing market. Mr. Paulson has reaped an estimated $3 billion to $4 billion for himself -- believed to be the largest one-year payday in Wall Street history. Now, in another twist in financial history, Mr. Paulson is retaining as an adviser a man some blame for helping feed the housing-market bubble by keeping interest rates so low: former Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan. ... Word of his success got around in the world of hedge funds -- investment partnerships for institutions and rich individuals. George Soros invited Mr. Paulson to lunch, asking for details of how he laid his bets, with instruments that didn't exist a few years ago. Mr. Soros is famous for another big score, a 1992 bet against the British pound that earned $1 billion for his Quantum hedge fund. He declined to comment. ... Peter Soros, a George Soros relative who invests in the Paulson funds."

Stern, Leonard	Son of the German-born Max Stern, the vice chair of Yeshiva University. Jewish billionaire with a $5.4 billion fortune. Chair and CEO of the Hartz Group. Listed in Epstain's black book with his wife Allison, a former model and today a trustee and vice chairman of the elite Wildlife Conservation Society of New York.
Trump, Donald	Most of his family is in Epstein's black book: Ivana, Ivanka, Blaine, and Robert. Fortune of $4 billion. Son of Fred Trump, a NYC real estate developer. Took over his father's company in 1971 and renamed it The Trump Organization. Notoriously blunt, but still a major candidate in the Republican party presidential nomination for 2015, despite not being liked by the Republican leadership.
Turnbull, Gov. Charles	Governor US Virgin Islands 1999-2007, where Epstein maintained a home and his business.
Walters, Barbara	Co-anchor and contributor of ABC News 1976–2014. The View executive producer, creator and co-host 1997–2014. Friends with figures as Henry Kissinger, Roy Cohn and Bashar al-Assad.
Weidenfeld, Lord	Superclass Index. Pilgrims Society. Leading Zionist involved in the national security-linked Jerusalem Foundation, the Munich Security Conference, Europaeum, the Aspen Institute, the Middle East Media Research Institute (MEMRI), and more. In 1996 he founded the Club of Three (now the Institute for Strategic Dialogue) with Jacob Rothschild.
Wiesel, Eli	Superclass Index. Leading Zionist involved in many Rockefeller new age, Catholic Knight of Malta, Zionist groups, and neocon national security think tanks. Awarded a Nobel Piece Prize.

Windisch-Graetz, Prince Manfred	Leading member of the Austrian house of Windisch-Graetz, which used to serve the Habsburg dynasty. Involved in the Order of Malta.
Helen Windsor-Taylor	First cousin once removed from Queen Elizabeth II.
Wexner, Leslie	Ohio-based Jewish billionaire worth $7.7 billion. Chairman and CEO of L. Brands, which includes Victoria's Secret, Pink, bath & Body Works, and formerly, Abercrombie & Fitch. Allegations have been made that Wexner has made use of slave labor, both in the United States and abroad. In 1984 he established the Wexner Foundation, mainly aimed at supporting Jewish causes.
Yugoslavia, Prince Michel of	Leading member of the Serbian house of Karadordevic / Karageorgevitch. His mother is Princess Maria Pia of Savoy (Bourbon-Parma) while his half-brother, Prince Dushan, is a son of Princess Barbara of Liechtenstein. Crown Prince Alexander II of Karadordevic hosted a meeting of the private intelligence group Le Cercle in 2004. Prince Michael works for Diligence, LCC, an elite CIA front firm with covert ties to shady Russian-Ukrainian GRU firm Far West Ltd. Both are suspected of involvement in the global drug trade, arms trafficking, and the managing of terrorist networks. Involved in the Knights of Malta.
Zuckerman, Mort	Epstein maintained 21 contact numbers for him. Leading national security expert and Zionist. ISGP's Superclass Index. Involved in the CFR, Trilateral Commission, Brookings, Bretton Woods Committee, the IISS, the America-Israel Friendship League (AIFL), the Peres Center for Peace, the Middle East Strategy Group of the Aspen Institute, and much more.